PARIS, May 16.—A full-fledged war of moment was in full swing today between Namur and Sedan as the Germans sought to push their armored columns ever deeper into Belgian and French territory, according to a French military spokesman.

Paris military circles contended that the German attempts to spread out fanwise from Sedan were repulsed and that the Nazi forces there are now being held in check.

They added that the situation

The Hague Formally Occupied By Germans

(International News Service)

BERLIN, May 16—Formal German occupation of the Hague and Amsterdam and sweeping successes in Belgium and France were announced in the German war communique today.

The high command declared:

"German troops marched into Den Hague (The Hague) and Amsterdam.

"In Belgium the enemy is making a stand within the line from Antwerp to the Dyle river and the fortress of Namur.

"Southwest of Namur, our divisions extended their positions along the west bank of the Meuse and again defeated French tank squadrons.

"South of Sedan French counter-attacks, undertaken with the heaviest tpye tanks were repulsed. Several of the enemy's heaviest tanks were destroyed.

"Our positions were advanced between the Moselle and the Rhine west of Saarlautern and near Lauterburg.

"Strong German air force units yesterday continued attacks on enemy troops and communications. Marching columns and troop concentrations were dispersed and numerous enemy tanks destroyed by direct hits.

Ask County To Aid Work Plan

Delegation Of Unemployed Tin Workers Seeks Aid Of County To Provide Jobs

SEVERAL REQUESTS PRESENTED TODAY

Asking that the county commissioners take some steps to provide work for them, a delegation of unemployed tin workers appeared before the commissioners today with several specific requests. The spokesman for the group was James Lawton but the discussion was joined in by practically every man present.

"We ask that the county specify that only Lawrence County men can be employed upon work done by contractors and paid for by the county," said Mr. Lawton.

Preference Specified

"While we appreciate the situation, we cannot make such a demand in our specifications," said Commissioner George H. Bolinger, chairman of the board. "We have specified that only Pennsylvania residents of not less than 60 days be employed, and we have also inserted in the specifications the requirement that Lawrence County men shall be given preference. WITH THE BRITISH Expeditionary Force In Belgium, May 16. — British forces in France swept into violet action against the invading army of Nazi Germany all along the Belgian front running through Louvain today.

Heavy artillery stabbed and pounded mercilessly, inflicting heavy casualties on German mechanized units which attempted to breach the Louvain canal with tanks directly in front of the British positions.

The attempt failed utterly, and although a few tanks succeeded in crossing the canal, they were either smashed to bits or compelled to retire.

British Air Force Pours Tons Of Bombs Down Upon German Communications

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, May 16—In the heaviest blow it has yet dealt, Britain's air force poured tons of bombs on German communications east of the Rhine river, the London air ministry announced today.

The massed raids were directed against German communications supporting the Nazi Legions in Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg.

Causing many fires to break out amid the thunder of heavy explosions, the attacks were pressed home by the Royal Air Force throughout the night, according to the announcement.

Attack Communications

"The Royal Air Force last night carried out east of the Rhine a big offensive against the enemy's road and rail communications which were supporting the forces of their invasion of the low countries and Luxembourg," said the communique.

"The attacks lasted throughout the night. Many tons of bombs were released. Road and rail communications were attacked and at many points fire broke out and heavy explosions were caused.

"It was the heaviest R. A. F. attack yet made."

BERLIN REPORTS LONGWY TAKEN

Germans Being Held In Check By Defenses Of Sedan, London Reports

By NEWELL ROGERS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, May 16.—With their offensive "by no means spent," German troops are attacking constantly all along the Franco - Belgian line from east of Antwerp to Sedan and Longwy, an authoritative British spokesman said today.

Germans Being Held

The Germans are being held on the eastern side of the wedge effected by the defenses of Sedan.

On the western side, the situation is "obscure and fluid".

While it is difficult to say exactly what is happening, the spokesman said, the stiuation is definitely serious, but not necessarily critical.

The line as it stands today runs roughly from a point east of Antwerp to Louvain, the east of Charleroi southward toward Mezieres, thence south and east to Sedan and Longwy.

Attack All Along Front

The Germans are attacking all along this historic front.

The most serious situation prevails at Dinant and Sedan. It appears that Namur, while still holding out, is now isolated. Liege likewise is standing firm.

In Holland, heavy fighting continued in the province of Zeeland between allied and German troops. Hostilities also are still under way at Walcheren and the islands to the east.

Newspaperman Gives Vivid Picture Of 'Behind Lines' Scenes In Belgium

By KENNETH DOWNS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES ON THE BELGIAN FRONTIER, May 16.—(Delayed by censor)—We still have not reached what is conventionally known as the front, but the things I have seen here in a zone once considered "behind the lines" I shall never forget.

The events of yesterday spin before my eyes today like the disjointed flashes of a crazy dream—constantly wailing sirens in every town we passed through . . . low-flying strafing planes . . . thousands of Belgian refugees pouring endlessly across the frontier in every sort of vehicle with wheels on it . . . the dull bumph! bumph! of falling bombs . . . billowing smoke from a village ablaze . . . the sinister black shapes of Dornier "flying pencils" zooming low . . . the inevitable French chasers . . . that Belgian woman who was smiling in such a funny way as she blurted the tragic story of her two-day flight with her family when I stuck my head into her packed sedan. It took me a minute or two to realize she was not smiling but crying . . . the sudden mottling of the sky by gun-bursts . . . those captured German pilots . . . that Liege man who was shocked speechless when a dud shell buried itself into the ground near him last Friday and who is still unable to say a word . . . ambulances coming back from the front . . . . the blood-spattered parachute of a German pilot who jumped too late . . . incessant alerts . . . farmers still working in the fields but with their eyes cocked skyward.

Tremendous Battles

I don't know yet what the score was in yesterday's air fighting but it must have been tremendous. There was scarcely a moment throughout the day when I did not see or hear air fighting over the 200-odd miles I travelled.

At one point alone I saw the survivors of the crews of three downed German planes brought in. Only the machine-gunner was alive in the first machine, which was brought

Legislative Session Ends Tonight

Adjournment Is Set For 10 O'clock

All 17 Administration Measures Appear Assured Of Final Passage

TURNPIKE BILL EXPECTED TO PASS

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, May 16.—The Pennsylvania Legislature, summoned into special session 11 days ago to appropriate additional funds for relief, will adjourn sine die tonight after enacting into law the entire program of Gov. Arthur H. James.

Final adjournment was tentatively set for 10 p. m.

All 17 administration measures appeared assured of passage in substantially the form drawn up by the governor and his advisers. They include the Turnpike Extension Bill, which had appeared in jeopardy for a while, and the $71,850,000 relief appropriation. The additional relief outlay brings to $194,000,000 the amount voted so far this biennium for the care of the unemployed.

The final day of the special session opened first with the convening of the Senate, which met at 1 p. m. (E. D. T.) The House was scheduled to meet at 4 p. m. after a week's recess, having adjourned last week Thursday after enacting the governor's program.

Final Day's Program

Following is the final day's program as outlined by the Republican leadership:

1. Ten of the 17 administration bills which have already been passed by both Houses will be signed by the presiding officers of the House and Senate and forwarded to the governor for his approval.

2. The remaining seven bills will be returned to the House for concurrence in Senate amendments. After the House and Senate have agreed on the final form the bills will take they also will be forwarded to the governor.

3. The Senate will confirm numerous interim appointments of Governor James, including probably that of Secretary of Banking John C. Bell, Jr.

4. The 1939 Legislature will then adjourn sine die.

These are the 10 measures passed finally by both Houses: The bills transferring $37,000,000 from the motor fund, $7,250,000 from the liquor license fund, $2,300,000 from the fire insurance tax fund and $11,000,000 from the liquid fuels tax fund; a $190,000 reducation in rentals for new buildings erected at Pennsylvania State College by the general state authority; and the transfer of $1,500,000 from the veterans compensation fund to meet sinking fund requirements.

Also, a $1,382,000 reduction in other general state authority rentals; appropriation of $245,000 for the expenses of the special session; an additional $1,000,000 outlay for financially-distressed schools; and a change in the definition of dependent children in the state public assistance law to make it conform with the federal Social Security Act.

Of the remaining seven administration measures, two are still on the Senate calendar for final action, namely, the Turnpike Extension measure and the revision of the election code to permit special elections to fill vacancies when the Legislature is not in session.

Objections to the Turnpike measure, which authorizes the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission to build another superhighway from Harrisburg to Philadelphia at a cost in federal funds of approximately $75,000,000, were ironed out when the governor was given veto power over the highway department and the Turnpike Commission in determining the 100-mile route. Other Senate amendments were withdrawn.

Measures which await House concurrence in Senate amendments include the $71,850,000 relief bill, the transfer of $2,000,000 from the state school fund, the $4,419,000 reduction in departmental budgets, the Turnpike measure, and the revision of the election code and unemployment compensation laws.

TWO VETERAN SCHOOL PRINCIPALS TO RETIRE

Dart the board adopted a new procedure at the suggestion of Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent. A supervising principal has been selected to have charge of the schools the two women principals are leaving. In each of the buildings a head teacher has been selected who will be in effect an assistant principal.

Book Is Named

For the post of supervising principal, the board unanimously named Clare B. Book, of this city. Mr. Book is a graduate of Slippery Rock State Teachers' College, took his bachelor of science in the University of Pittsburgh, his master of arts in the University of Pittsburgh and has almost completed sufficient work to receive his Ph. D. degree.

His experience in the teaching field has been mostly of a supervisory nature. For a time he was the teaching principal of the West Pittsburg school For a number of years he was the supervising principal of the Shenango Township schools and still later was assistant county superintendent. Several years ago he left the educational field to become affiliated with the American Book Company.

The selection of Mr. Book and the change in policy will affect a financial savings also in the schools. The standard rate of pay for a two school principal is $2800 per year. Mr. Book will receive $3500 per year of which $700 is a supplemental contract for additional duties.

The head teachers selected for the four schools are, Rose avenue, Alvin Brown, West Side, Walter Hoskins, Thaddeus Stevens, Peter Grittie, Jr., and Oak street, Helen Hinkson. They will receive $100 per year additional upon a supplemental contract.

The total cost for supervision under the new plan will be $3900 per year. Under the former plan the total was $5,000 per year. The change is effective at the beginning of the 1940-41 school term.

down by a French fighter. His pilot was killed and he crashed in the plane.

This machine-gunner was a boy of 21. He was brought in on a stretcher and he whimpered softly as he waited for a doctor to attend his smashed shoulder and insides.

He was dressed in a cheap cotton jacket and trousers and felt slippers that looked strangely similar to a prison uniform. He told a French pilot he had had only 20 hours of flying since he was taken from the regular army to serve as an air force machine-gunner.

Only a bloody parachute was brought in from the next downed plane, telling its own mute story of the fate of its owner.

Both the pilot and gunner of the next plane had more luck and managed to parachute safely. The gunner was a lieutenant wearing a smart uniform with a Nazi insignia. The lieutenant was tall, blond, roundheaded and sulky.

The pilot was 22 and looked indifferent about the whole business.

Wore Service Stripes

Both members of this crew wore service stripes from the Polish campaign. One couldn't help wonder how many lives they had taken in how many places before a French fighter finished their careers yesterday afternoon.

A French officer told me this plane had been engaged in stafing highways for military and civilians alike when brought down.

Refugees are pouring in by the tens of thousands from Belgium.

Aided by Belgian officials, French police rapidly examine them at the frontier and they pass in a steady stream of others into France to wander they know not where—but anywhere to get away from the horrors behind them.

I talked to scores of these unfortunates and all tell the same story of nightmarish bombardments and ruthless machine-gunning of roads. One man and woman who carried their five children and two children of a neighbor in their battered American sedan, with a crippled man on the front fender and bedding on top, told me they had been two days enroute from Liege.

"We've had to get out nine times and flop to escape the strafers." They said.

"Troops and police line the roads to signal the refugees in closed cars when to halt and flop when the stafers are near.

"We don't know where we're going or what we're going to do. But we thank God we're reached France with the kids."

Surviving are one daughter Hazel M. White, at home, and one brother, James White of Slippery Rock township.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the late residence on the Frew Mill road. Interment will be in Mt. Herman cemetery.

Harry M. Owens.

Complications following an illness of long duration resulted in the death of Harry M. Owens aged 67, who passed away this morning at 5:10 at the home of his son, Elmer Owens, Big Beaver township, Beaver county.

Mr. Owen was born in Pittsburgh, son of Edward and Helen McKinnel Owens. He had been a resident of Big Beaver township for the past 46 years where he was highly respected. Prior to his illness, he had been employed by the state highway department for some time. He was a member of New Galilee U. P. church.

Survivors are his wife, Mae Gilleland Owens: two sons, Elmer, at whose home he died, and Edward, of New Brighton: five grandchildren and one brother, R. W. Owens, of Mt. Nelo, Allegheny county.

Funeral services will be conducted Sunday afternoon at 2:30 (E. S. T.) from the New Galilee U. P. church with Rev. W. W. Willis in charge. Interment will be in Grandview cemetery, Beavey Falls. The body will be taken to the home of his son in Big Beaver township where it will remain until time for services, Sunday.

J. Alex McConnell

J. Alex McConnell, aged 75, 2400 Grant street, Evanston, Ill., died at the home of his son, Charles McConnell, in Evanston, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Mr. McConnell was preceded in death by his wife, Mary Adella McConnell, in October, 1936. He was born in Leesburg on September 19, 1864, son of William and Sarah Ann Wimer McConnell. After his marriage, he moved to Sharpsville where he was engaged in the meat business. He came to New Castle in 1899 and in 1904 moved to Franklin where he was in the peanuts and popcorn business. He had resided with his son in Evanston since 1924.

In addition to his son Charles, he leaves one sister, Mrs. Alice Heasley of Meadville; two granddaughters, Jean and Muriel McConnell, and one grandson, Elgin McConnell, all of Evanston.

The body will arrive here Friday and be taken to the Cunningham funeral home, East Washington and Chestnut streets, where the family will receive friends Friday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday afternoon at 2:30 from the funeral home with Rev. William A. Lloyd of Leesburg in charge. Interment will be in Leesburg cemetery.

Moskal Funeral.

High mass of requiem for Walanty Moskal, 24 Balph avenue, was celebrated this morning at 10 o'clock in SS. Philip and James church with Rev. Fr. V. V. Stancelewski, as celebrant.

Pallbearers were Casimir Boron, Stanley Przybilski, Gabriel Boron, Walter Macios, George Zepka and Stanley Wenda.

Interment was made in the church cemetery with Fr. Stancelewski conducting the committal service at the grave.

The battle will break, it was said, al along the line from Antwerp along the Dyle river to Namur.

Already, according to German spokesmen, the Nazi drive has caused far greater havoc within the allied ranks than anyone suspects.

The climax is expected over the week-end. The north and south arms of the German pincer are already pushing the allies back in a menacing manoeuvre.

cause of its famed university that was rebuilt by American money after its destruction in the last invasion, is in the thick of it.

General action along the entire front held by British forces is in its first phases but what probably will be the greatest battle in history may be said to be under way.

Mechanized units of the British army are spread out fanwise toward the east. Some of the advance units retired slowly, blowing up bridges east of Louvain to impede the German advance.

Losses Heavy

Figrting is hard and savage. The losses are probably heavy on both sides. Louvain itself, now deserted, has been subjected to incessant German bombings for the last five days. The beautiful library thus far has been spared but two bombs landed within 100 yards of its walls.

From a vantage point not far from Louvain I had an opportunity to gaze eastward over a vast panorama of battle.

Over green fields just ripening into grain British shells roared and screamed. From far away came flashes and puffs of smoke from bursting shells. Finally, a British battery concealed in the woodland opened a crashing attack on German batteries far away.

Shells of heaviest calibre could be seen bursting and smashing visible objects two or three miles distant. I saw German shell-fire crash into a deserted village. Flashes of flame and heavy smoke told the tale of that luckless town.

German Bombers' Havoc

Here the Germans had worked with incendiary bombs and shells, according to a granite-faced submajor directing the fire of British batteries.

After half an hour of watching the shellfire I went over to witness the devastation wrought by a German bomber on a town where I had stayed a short while before.

It was just a miracle that a chance came along to move up to the front and got me out of that village before the bomber came. But for that bit of luck I might have been beneath the debris which buried four persons caught there that night when a high explosive bomb blew up the entire right wing of the hotel.

Before breaking of today's fighting I had the opportunity of speaking with a young officer of the mechanized cavalry. He pointed to the battered, deserted city of Louvain which lay in smoking ruin behind us and declared:

"We will stay here as long as possible."

Everywhere in and around Louvain I watched the British Tommies preparing their positions at strategic points, and saw them placing anti-tank guns, machine guns and barbed wire entanglements everywhere.

I also witnessed an artillery duel which marked the day's severest action.

BRITISH AIR FORCE BOMB GERMAN COMMNICATIONS

munique stated that British Expeditionary Forces in Belgium successfully withstood a series of German assaults, it said:

Many Nazi Planes Down

"The B. E. F. after hard fighting has successfully held serious German attacks.

"Since the German offensive began, the B. E. F. air component has destroyed at least 124 enemy planes.

"B. E. F. anti-aircraft artillery shot down at least 23 planes in the rear areas and many others were shot down by our forward troops."

Audible proof of the gigantic battle raging in Belgium and around the Sedan area of France reached British soil at Deal in the form of repercussions from the gunfire on the battlefields.

Houses at Deal and other points along England's southeastern coast shook and vibrated while doors and windows rattled violently.

The rumbling lasted all day yesterday. Residents of the coastal area said they were like the tremblings of an earthquake.

will be still raging in June but may be settled by August and its outcome might have a predominent influence upon the naming of the Republican presidential nominee.

Officials at Republican national headquarters denied knowledge of any postponement plan and indicated opposition of it. One G. O. P. official said that it would be almost impossible to postpone the convention of commitments in Philadelphia for the convention hall, hotels and radio time.

can go no farther than this legally."

Mr. Lawton then said, "with the county treasury balance what it is today we believe that you could take $100,000 or more to provide projects for unemployed men. We cannot get on the WPA because we must first go on relief and they will not accept men of our class on relief because we own our own homes."

"We are willing to sponsor projects if we can get you men to work" said Bolinger. "However our experience has been that once we sponsor a project we have nothing to say as to who shall be employed Further it seems you have to be a Democrat to get on the WPA."

To this Mr. Lawton replied, "we have also been told by at least one contractor who is doing work on the highways that he will not accept hot mill men for work on the highways."

Would Controvert Law

Commission Joseph F. Travers said he felt that "law or no law, Lawrence County men should be specified for Lawrence county contracts. Commissioner W. R. Walton said that he was willing to cooperate in the sponsoring of projects if the men in the group could be given employment. As to the specifications for contracts he said they had gone as far as they could go legally, after getting the opinion of the county solicitor.

The upshot of the meeting was that a letter was written to Governor Arthur H. James presenting the situation to him. "We are prohibited from getting jobs on the WPA because we own our homes, while others who wasted their substance in prosperous years are working on the WPA" was one quotation. The letter asked the governor if some exemptions in the rules could not be brought about to permit such men as were present to get jobs. "We ask no charity," continued the latter "we ask the right to enjoy some of the government funds that we helped to provide in better times."

The lettes is being forwarded to Governor James and if some adjustment in the situation can be made, the commissioners have said they will sponsor projects.

shot and killed Highway Patrolman Brady Paul. As a sergeant he instituted an immediate search in an effort to capture the slayers who were electrocuted here.

The recommendation that he be elevated was presented by Marion J. Young, chief of police, and Mayor Charles B. Mayne, as head of the department, presented it to council. It passed unanimously.

During the session former Chief of Police Ralph A. Criswell was appointed as a sergeant. Since he was succeeded by Young, Criswell has been serving as a sergeant.

Another promotion was that of Patrolman Gilmore W. Smith from the rank of patrolman to a sergeantcy. He is one of the younger members but has made several important captures since joining the force.

"Artillery fire on the ambulances was directed by a German airplane which gave corrections to the artillery batteries. We consider this a deliberate attempt to destroy the cars. German brutality in this instance defies comprehension and description."

Col. Sparks said Willen, Willis, Esten and Calhoun were not hurt.

ORDER OF RAINBOW INSTALLS OFFICERS

Beautifully impressive ceremonies took place last evening when the new officers of New Castle Assembly No. 1, Order of the Rainbow for Girls were formally installed at an open meeting in the East Lodge room of The Cathedral.

Miss Claribel Cope, the retiring worthy advisor presided as installing officer, assisted by Miss Jerry Flick, a past worthy advisor, with Miss Rosetta Treharne, past worthy advisor as installing marshal; Misses Betty Wright, musician; June Auble, chaplain; Dorothy Felch, recorder; Marjorie Allen, treasurer; and Billie Jean Seal, drill leader.

The new officers who were inducted are: Worthy advisor, Beryl Morgan; associate advisor, Elaine Keefer; charity, Juanita Lewis; hope, Lavenie Thomas; faith, Leslie Wilson; chaplain, Betty Cope; drill leader, Ruth Porter; love, Patricia McClurg; religion, Mary Ruth Turner; nature, Joanne McCullum; immortality, Idajenne Mitchell; fidelity, Manitta McCracken; patriotism, Minerva Suici; service, Lois Leach; confidential observer, Jean Rapson; musician, Jean Wright; choir director, Virginia Lee.

Miss Cope presided in a gracious and efficient manner. She was presented with her past worthy advisor's jewel by Miss Jerry Flick, and was also the recipient of a beautiful white Bible from the advisory board, in addition to many beautiful flowers and other gifts.

Miss Beryl Morgan, the newly installed worthy advisor was also the recipient of many flowers and gifts.

Music during the evening was furnished by a group of young ladies from the Senior high school chorus.

Mrs. William C. Whieldon, who was installed as mother advisor in January for the year 1940 was presented. She had trained the officers in their work and received a lovely gift of appreciation from them.

Macon Bridge Club

Members of the Macon Bridge club will meet Fr day evening with Mrs. Charles Buell on Conkle avenue.

WOMAN'S CLUB TEA WILL END SEASON

A "Musical Tea" will mark the final meeting of the season for Woman's Club members when they meet Monday afternoon, May 20, at 2:30 o'clock in Highland United Presbyterian church.

The program will be in charge of Mrs. Paul Welsh, chairman of the Music Division of the Fine Arts Department. The Federation Chorus will sing under the direction of Mrs. William J. Caldwell, director. In addition a group of solos will be contributed by Mrs. W. P. Felch with Mrs. Kathryn Nessle Allen, accompanist. Miss Carol Henderson will play a piano number as another feature.

Acting as hostesses will be the Fine Arts Committee, and featuring the business period will be an installation of officers for the new club year.

SECTION ONE MEETS AT FERVER RESIDENCE

Mrs. W. E. Ferver received members of Section One, Frist Christian church in her New Wilmington road home Wednesday afternoon for their one o'clock luncheon meeting.

Following the serving of a tasty menu, the regular routine was carried out.

On May 28, the Section will tour the Shenango Pottery and the next regular meeting will be Wednesday June 12, in the home of Mrs. John Meyer, Winter avenue.

LUNCHEON-BRIDGE AT FIELD CLUB HOUSE

Women members of the New Castle Field Club enjoyed a luncheon-bridge in their club rooms on Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. C. B. Fiester presiding in the role of hostess.

Those winning prizes for honors included Mrs. Don McGrew and Mrs. J. F. Perelman.

A similar party will be held again soon, the date to be announced.

B. P. W. ANNUAL PARTY AT FIELD CLUB MAY 21

Business and Professional Women club members will put aside all serious thoughts on Tuesday evening, May 21, when they get together for their annual dinner party at the New Castle Field Club. Each will be privileged to ask a guest, inasmuch as this also marks "Guest Night."

Serving will begin promptly at 7 o'clock and it is expected many members from all B. P. W. clubs in District Two in addition to others from Sharon, Youngstown, O., and East Liverpool, O., will also be present, to share in the delightfully informal program planned.

The group will have as their guest speaker, Mrs. Isabel Claridge Taylor, from West Virginia, National and International treasurer of the B. P. W. organization. She has chosen for her topic "Our Frontier."

Miss Florence Davis is general chairman and co-chairmen assisting her will be Miss Erma Eckert, Miss Della Glenn, Mrs. Hazel Lightfoot and their committees.

TRINITY CHURCH PARTY HELD WEDNESDAY NIGHT

There were 11 tables of contract, auction and 500 in play at the benefit card party sponsored by the Trinity Episcopal church choir in the home of Mrs. M. A. Johnson, Reis street, Wednesday evening. The party benefited the piano fund of the church.

Prizes were won by William Hewitt, Miss Eleanor Colgan and Mrs. Carl Wallace.

At the conclusion of play, delicious refreshments were served. Mrs. Johnson's aides were Miss Isabel Johnson, Mrs. Katherine Boughter, Mrs. Clifford Colgan, Miss Clara Emery and Miss Effie Emery.

O. B. A. CLASS HONORS MOTHERS AT BANQUET

About 50 attended the banquet given by the O. B. A. class members of the Central Christian church Tuesday evening for their mothers.

Following dinner, the program was presented: song by the assemblage; poem, Myrtle Alexander: solo, Dorothy Price; violin and piano duet, Scrivan sisters; toast to mothers, Irene Williams; toast to daughters, Mrs. Williams; play, "Face to Face with the Mike," Myrtle Alexander, Irene Price, Celia Strobel, Naomi Clements, Florence Scrivan; presentation of plants to youngest mother, Mrs. Leckwart and oldest mother, Mrs. Laura Hamlet; play, "Swinging the Votes," same cast.

Both plays were directed by Celia Strobel and Myrtle Alexander. The program closed with the group singing "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

Wednesday Quilting Club

At the home of Mrs. Milton Book, of Winslow avenue, the Wednesday Quilting club held an all day meeting.

The morning hours were spent in sewing.

At noon, a delicious dinner was served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Clayton Bryan.

After a short business meeting, bingo became the pastime, with prizes being awarded to Mrs. Charles Gibson, Mrs. Ed. Blaine and Mrs. Ollie Evans.

Special guests were Mrs. M. Koonce, Patty Bryan, Jennie Bryan and Donald Beck.

The club members were invited to the home of Mrs. Charles Gibson, on June 19.

TEA PARTY FOR BAIRD MEMBERS

Baird Society members numbering 25, of the Highland U. P. church, enjoyed a prettily appointed Spring Tea party at their Wednesday afternoon assemblage in the church parlors. Hostesses were Mrs. Ralph Cook, Mrs. Lee Allen, Anne Aiken and Minnie Jackson.

Preceding the social period, Mrs. Roy Graham, the newly elected president, conducted an interesting meeting with the topic "Christian Homes," and "Homes Across the Sea" Mrs. Daniel Maddacks, Mrs. Ollie Rodgers and Mrs. June Bernard, aided with the program, the latter giving several appropriate musical selections.

Those who discussed the first theme were: Mrs. Thomas Lindsey, "Institution of the Home," Mrs. William Jackson, "Christ Comes to the Home," and Mrs. R. D. Davis, "Outgoings of the Home." The second part was discussed by Mrs. A. R. Batten, "Homes in India," Mrs. G. A. Ligo, "Homes in Egypt," and Mrs. J. F. Fox, "Homes in Sudan."

June 4 was set as the time of the Tuesday morning prayer group visitation of the Mt. Jackson church. Echoes of the recent Presbyterial which took place in Ellwood City were given by Mrs. James Cole and Mrs. Ray Cline.

June 19 members will met again.

N. K. CLUB HONORS MEMBER AT PARTY

Special party for members of the N. K. club was held Wednesday evening, at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Bowden, Harbor street. Games were played following a short business meeting and prizes were awarded to Miss Marian Allen, Mrs. Welbourne Turner and James McAdams.

Mrs. Carl Barbour entertained by playing the piano and everyone joined in group singing. A drawing was held and prizes went to Mrs. Elmo Whitmore, Mrs. Elmer Ferrell, Betty Schmidt, Arthur Fleischer, Ed Porado and Mrs. Mitchell.

The club honored Mrs. Herman Siggelow, nee Evelyn Barbour, a member of the club, who was married recently. Mrs. Siggelow was presented with a nice gift from the club.

The hostess served a delicious luncheon and was aided by Marian Allen and Agusta Hitch.

Next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Siggelow, Croton avenue, Wednesday evening, May 29.

O. A. O. CLUB HONORS MRS. WILLIAM McBRIDE

The birthday anniversary of Mrs. William McBride was appropriately observed Wednesday evening by members of the O. A. O. club when they gathered as guests of Mrs. Jack Kenehan, on Ryan avenue.

The event was carried out in keeping with the birthday motif, and the honoree received in addition to a club gift, one from her "silent pal" another from Mrs. David Jones, a special visitor and several other remembrances. The honoree also was given a shoulder corsage.

The early hours were devoted to bridge with Mrs. Floyd Kelley, Mrs. Lloyd Wimer and Mrs. Thomas Baskeyfield, capturing the prizes.

Lunch was a later pleasure, the appointment in pink and green further carrying out the anniversary motif.

On June 13, Mrs. Floyd Kelley, of East Washington street, will entertain.

MOTHERS-DAUGHTERS HONORED BY REVIEW

Mothers and daughters were honored by members of Women's Benefit Association, Review 98, at a social meeting of the group, Wednesday evening, in the Malta Hall, East Washington street.

Miss Jessie Harper was in charge of the program for the evening. This event took the place of the annual mothers and daughters banquet.

A delicious luncheon was served by the following committee: Mrs. Pearl Cook, Miss Jessie Harper, Mrs. Nell Knox and Miss Anna Patterson.

Next meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, June 5, at the hall.

Suder-Hall

Miss Esther Suder, a daughter of Mrs. Hannah Suder, of 910 Lorain avenue, and William Hall, Jr., son of William Hall, Sr., of Front street, were united in marriage, Saturday afternoon, May 11, at 3:30 o'clock. The ceremony took place in the parsonage of St. Paul's Lutheran church, with Rev. A. M. Stump, using the single ring service.

Attending Mr. and Mrs. Hall, were Geraldine Zingaro and Raymond Rhinehart.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall are residing on Epworth street.

Just-Us-Club

Mrs. Jack Richards of Chestnut street, entertained members of the Just-Us club Wednesday evening with Harriet Lent sharing as a special guest.

Cards were in play with prizes going to Erma Belknap and Mrs. Sam Aven.

On May 29 the club will meet with Erma Belknap of Greenwood avenue.

AUXILIARY WILL HAVE FORMAL SPRING DANCE

Plans for a spring formal dance were discussed Wednesday evening at the Young Tigers Auxiliary meeting, held in the club rooms, South Mill street. The event will be held at the Sylvan Heights country club on May 30, with Elia Phillips as chairlady. Her assistant will be Elizabeth Amadio.

Card playing was the diversion, high score prizes going to Frances Pagley and Rose Marie Sica. The door trophy was won by Rose Spinelli, the special guest.

At a later hour the following hostesses served a dainty lunch: Verbina Daltoria, Clara Cugini and Victoria Ginocchi.

On May 27, the group will meet again with Mary Donofrio, Louise Peluso and Anna Diana as hostesses.

Barbarouicz-Parrott Date

Miss Eleanor Barbarouicz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Barbarouicz of Electric street, has announced June 1 as the date of her wedding to Anthony Parrott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Parrott of Martha street. The ceremony will take place in the SS. Philip and James church with Rev. Fr. V. V. Stancelewski officiating.

Friends and relatives, numbering 150, assembled at a downtown tea room on a recent afternoon to honor the bride-elect at a shower.

Games and dancing were enjoyed and at an appropriate time refreshments were served. Hostesses were Mrs. Charles Abramski, Miss Rose Parrottt, Miss Nancy Horney and Mrs. Mary Byszuk. The honoree received an array of lovely gifts of a miscellaneous nature for household use.

WALMO KENSINGTON CONCLUDES SEASON

In winding up the season, Walmo Kensington members were received in the home of Mrs. E. M. Stitchberry of Walmo on Wednesday afternoon, for a 1 o'clock luncheon party. Dainty appointments were used throughout and aiding the hostess with the tempting menu, was Mrs. John Madigan.

Regular sessions will be resumed in the fall, the opening date to be announced.

Mrs. Mary Martin of North Crawford avenue, has returned from several months visit with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eckles, Lockport, N. Y.

A GOVERNOR HEADED THE RIGHT WAY

IF LOUISIANA'S new governor, Sam Houston Jones, makes good on his inauguration address this week, he'll strike some great blows for restoration of the spirit, as well as the letter, of representative government in the genuine American tradition in that state.

This 42-year-old attorney, who swept away the rank growth that remained after twelve years of the Huey Long machine dictatorship, promised the people of Louisiana that hereafter they are to be the dictators, under the laws, over their elected officials from the governor down.

Declaring that "a state machine of unbelievable infamy has been smashed," Governor Jones promised forcefully that during the single term—no more—he intends to serve, legislative safeguards against any possibility of its revival will be established.

No governor and no government in this country could do a better work. American principles were at a low ebb in Louisiana when Huey was king, and long after. The people of the State had to bring those principles back, and the tone of Mr. Jones' address gives reason to hope that they did not struggle in vain.

Two sleepy puppies and a mewing kitten were the subjects of a recent news picture that broke records and made history. The tiny animals were entered in the sixth annual pet show of the East Side Boys club in New York City. The NNew York Daily Mirror sent a photographer on routine assignment. Other cameramen were there, and all took pictures in the regular manner.

They borrowed the kitten from one boy and the puppies from another and grouped them with the kitten in the middle. The job done, the Mirror man lingered to tickle the kitten under the chin. The kitten mewed and in doing so assumed a laughing expression very inspiring to the beholder. The photographer promptly took another batch of pictures, one of which brought amazing results.

As soon as the papers appeared on the streets, readers went a little daffy. Before the incident was over, the Mirror had to print many thousand capies of the picture and set aside a special room for their distribution. It received 3,000 telephone calls a day and 5,000 letters about the picture, and crowds of people waited in line to buy copies at fifty cents each or three for a dollar, the price set to cover cost of production. The paper ran the same picture four days in succession.

Animal pictures are always popular. Many delightful ones are printed in the papers right along and it is hard to explain why this particular one was singled out for special favor.

GENERATION OF UNSPANKED YOUTH

The president of a western university describes today's students as probably "the only unspanked generation in the world." He adds his belief that the boys and girls "missed something" by not being spanked.

Whether corporal punishment has any legitimate place in child-training, either in the home or the school, has been a highly controversial subject for the past several decades.

Within a couple of generations the pendulum appears to have swung from needless severity of punishment to the other extreme of not only dispensing with mild "spankings" but also abandoning any form of corrective discipline.

Even a number of the once common words associated with corporal punishment have been almost forgotten in this generation, such as trounce, switch, scutch, larrup, thump, lick, lash, flog, and the like.

Nature, however, has not seen fit to co-operate in this more humane attitude toward refractory children, and continues to impose the same old penalties for violation of her laws.

Nor is punishment withheld when "unspanked" children grow into undisciplined manhood or womanhood, for the leniency accorded juvenile misbehavior does not carry through to adult derelictions, misdemeanors and crimes.

And so it comes about that there must be reformatories, penitentiaries, and devices to inflict capital punishment, for those who, as a result of mistaken kindness, escaped mild penalties for youthful offenses.

After all, it isn't a matter of being "unspanked"—it's whether the punishment shall be deserved spankings during childhood or a terrible beating sometime later in life.

MORE MILLIONS FOR SUBSIDY

The proposed St. Lawrence Waterway is one of the principal issues now being considered by Congress. And, should the bill pass in its proposed form, the taxpayers of tnis country will be called upon to bear a new burden of staggering proportions.

The estimated cost of the project is $258,000,000. But, if past precedent is any arbiter, it is well to take that estimate with many grains of salt. For the almost universal experience, both here and abroad, has been that waterway improvements cost two to three times as much as the optimistic estimates of their proponents. The estimated cost of the Suez Canal, for example, was $30,000,000—it actually cost $80,000,000. Estimated cost of the Panama Canal was $160,000,000—actual cost was $375,000,000. Estimated cost of the Chicago Drainage Canal was $16,000,000—actual cost was $53,000,000. Estimated cost of the New York Barge Canal was $62,000,000—actual cost was $188,000,000. And various authorities are of the opinion that the St. Lawrence Waterway would actually cost around a billion.

Canada, of course, is to pay part of the cost. But her payments are to be deferred until 1949, and we are to advance all the money. And, in these days, no one knows what will happen in the next nine years.

Lastly, if there is any real need for the waterway, it hasn't been made clear. The general experience with all waterways is that they benefit a few favored companies, mostly large—at the expense of all the rest of the country which must pay tremendous sums for upkeep as well as for construction. According to Senator Wheeler, Chairman of the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee, when concerns ship products by water "they receive the benefit, but the consuming public does not get one 5-cent piece benefit out of it." There is no reason for believing the incredibly costly St. Lawrence Waterway would be any exception.

A small country in Europe is tense for a while and then pretty soon it is past tense.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

MORE COURTESY, PLEASE

The war in Europe is taking its toll in lives and property, but we, the people of the United States, have a war on our hands of which we think very little. The cost of this war consists mainly of lives,—human killed and injured. The property damage is considerable, but the lives are the most important. It is a war caused by the automobile.

There were more persons killed and injured on the highways of the United States last year than there were the year before. Just how many I am not able to say, but probably more lives were sacrificed last year by reason of the automobile than were lost by us in the first World War, and the economic loss in injuries and deaths due to traffic accidents amounts to nearly one billion dollars.

Most of these accidents are caused from carelessness and discourtesy and the only real answer to the problem lies with the individual driver and the pedestrian. No law, however drastic, will ever prevent this loss. To be sure the fifty-mile limit law in the State of Pennsylvania has caused less accidents, but there are entirely too many. The automobilist who is discourteous and careless can cause just as much damage driving twenty miles an hour as he can driving fifty.

America is losing its automobile war dead daily, but in America the dead are victims of a senseless war of speed and recklessness waged on the streets and highways. In America there are no Maginot Lines, shelters or trenches into which people can go for safety. Every moment they drive or walk, they face danger and with such a condition existing, Americans certainly should learn now to be more careful and less reckless.

Pennsylvania, as well as every other state, can spend money advantageously in four-way highways, so divided that it is impossible for those going East or North to collide with those going West or South. The only State in the Union that is doing this on a large scale is California and California is the only state of which I have any knowledge that up to this time has reserved all gas taxes for the use of the Highway Department; in other words, I believe every other state in the Union, has diverted part of its gasoline taxes to other uses and in states like Tennessee, Louisiana and Mississippi where the gasoline taxes are the highest, the roads are the poorest.

The automobile is the most dangerous instrument that has been been put in the hands of the humans to use, but it is up to the individual to prevent accidents. The builders of the automobile have come about as close to making the instrument fool-proof as is possiole for human ingenuity to accomplish and the most amazing part of the whole proposition is the almost universal lack of consideration for others on the part of the drivers.

FEMININE 6DESIRE

This I think I understand;
Woman wants a home to keep;
Wants a bit of fertile land
She can sow and reap,
Windows she can curtain, and
Porch and walk to sweep.

Women, such as all I know
Quite content would be Given a place where roses grow
And a shady tree
And some pretty things to show
Friends who come to tea.

This is woman's first desire
Chairs to call her own.
Wood to toss upon the fire,
When the summer's flown.
And a true man's love entire,
Hers and hers alone.

Sun sets tonight 7:10. Sun rises tomorrow 4:41.

We believe the kitchen is the most important room in a house. It should also be the cleanest room in a house because it is the most important room.

A walk over North Hill streets will show how many bum sidewalks are to be found there. Such things are not much of an attraction to visitors to the city.

There are a lot of houses in this city that do not have house numbers on them. What excuse is there for that?

We do not object to people going after all the money they can find lying around loose, but we do object to them trying to pry the money loose that is nailed down.

It looks as if a lot of people do not care to go through the physical examination in order to get a marriage license from the way they rushed to get marriage licenses before the law goes into effect.

Scroggins (a widower): "I'm agoin' to propose to the widow Brown."

"Over the hills to the poorhouse" doesn't seem so sad now. With concrete highways, hills mean nothing to modern cars.

Good Taste

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

By FRANCINE MARKEL

The cleverest of all career girls is she who understudies the boss. She is headed for a high executive position herself—a possibility that hardly existed a generation ago. And under modern conditions, she may acquire a husband without conflict with her general managership or vice presidency. Blazoned on this girl's mind from the beginning of her career is the motto: "She who does no more than she's paid for is never paid for more than she does." She begins by relieving the boss of every detail that she can take over. She answers all of the routine mail, showing him as few letters as possible. She keeps from him every telephone call that is non-essential. But the secretary who is a mere machine worker who watches the clock for the closing hour, who ploddingly does exactly what she is told to but no more and whose brain never conjures up a constructive thought relating to the office routine, is doomed to remain in status quo.

Readers' Questions Answered

Dear Miss Markel: Please give me some suggestions as to what I should wear at my debut which will take place at an afternoon tea. —Debutante.

Answer: Elaborate clothes should be shunned by you on this day of days. Your appearance should suggest girlishness, rather than sophistication. And on this occasion, you should strive to dress down to your 18 years, omitting such adornment as pendant earrings and other extremes. Wear a simple evening dress, even though your debut will take place in the afternoon. White, for those who can wear it, is preferable. Many choose soft, pastel shades, but vivid colors or black are never worn by those displaying good taste. Your mother and your young friends who will receive with you should wear afternoon dresses without hats. Both you and your mother should wear long gloves. A debutante wears an afternoon dress at her debut only when it takes place at a garden party or a very informal tea.

Dear Miss Markel: Are sandwiches at a buffet supper eaten with the fingers or must a fork be used?—Dub.

Answer: At teas and buffet suppers, sandwiches are eaten with the fingers. Therefore only dry sandwiches should then be served.

Miss Markel will promptly mail personal answers to questions from any reader enclosing self-addressed three-cent stamped envelope.

What's What At A Glance

Tydings Gets Little Consideration
Regarded As Poor Bet For Nomination
Maryland Friends Continue His Boom

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

SENATOR MILLARD E. TYDINGS scarcely can be considered even a Democratic presidential dark horse. Nevertheless some sizeable groups of his Maryland friends are forming organizations to boost for him at his party's coming convention. That he'll get an appreciable number of nominatorial votes from elsewhere is more than doubtful. Still, he evidently is very popular in the Free State and will figure a bit at the Chicago gathering. He'll be influential for some other candidate anyway. He isn't doing any campaigning for himself—unquestionably realizes that it simply would be a waste of his time to do so.

It's the political consensus that, even if President Roosevelt doesn't permit himself to be drafted for a third nomination, no alternate Democratic "possibility" can become so much as a remote "probability" without "F. D. R.'s" sanction.

And he certainly won't sanction Tydings.

Tydings was up for senatorial re-election two years ago and the administration did its best to "purge" him as an anti-New Dealer. I think it regarded him as the worst Democratic "anti" on Capitol Hill. I don't mean to say that he's anti-Democractic, as per the old-fashioned interpretation of Democracy; I mean to say that he's anti-New Dealerish.

War With New Deal

New Deal speechmakers went right into Maryland to fight his renomination.

Well, he was renominated and re-elected overwhelmingly.

This year his Maryland fellow senator, George L. Radcliffe, was a seeker for renomination. The opposition to him was assessed as extremely formidable. Tydings fought for him furiously, and Radcliffe won by a wide margin. His victory is spoken of as much more of a triumph for Tydings than for Radcliffe, since the former is a deal more conspicuous political personality than his associate.

I surmise that the Maryland Tydings group overestimates Millard as a national character. Their view's local. They say he's strong in the south. Perhaps that's true. Maryland is rather southerly. Yet Cordell Hull's Tennessee is at least as much so. And John N. Garner's Texas is a lot more so.

The Tydings people also aver that Millard has a tremendous appeal to the west. I can't see why he should have. So far as I know, he's never been there. Neither has Hull, I guess, but he's better nationally advertised, as secretary of state, than Millard, as a mere senator. And Garner, the Texan, is about as western as he is southern. James A. Farley, though New York's eastern, has cultivated the west intensively.

As To La Guardia

Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia of Manhattan (I don't intend to imply that he has a chance of a New Deal nomination) has a better title to call himself a frontiersman than Tydings has; he was born in Arizona and grew up there.

All in all, Millard would be a funny attempt at a compromise. He isn't as eastern as Farley. He isn't as southern as Garner. He isn't as western as Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana. He isn't as much of a political middle-of-the-roader as Cordell Hull. He's just about as poor a guess as any Marylander could hit on.

Senator Tydings, however, has some qualifications.

Tydings has intrinsic ability. He's a top-notch campaigner. His speeches are bell ringers. He hasn't made any of 'em out in the west, but he'd register in that section, if called up. And he's a democrat with a little "d". His in his third term in the senate, and he's only just turned 50. You like him the minute you see him.

But—the administration thumb definitely is turned down on him. What good does it do Maryland Democracy's outfit to plug for him for the presidency? In 1944 or 1948—maybe? But not in this current year.

I mention him as among the so-called "possibilities."

Parties And The Poll Tax

Washington, May 16.

THERE is excellent reason to believe that eight States of the so-called Solid South will be let down pretty badly by the Democratic party, to which they have so long and loyally adhered, when it meets in national convention the last of July. But it will not do them the least bit of good to get sore. There just isn't a thing they can do about it.

THE only alternative they have is to go over to the Republicans, and there is even less tolerance in that party for their especially cherished political device for disfranchising the colored voter than there is in their own. The States affected are Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Mississippi, South Carolina, Texas, Tennessee and Virginia; the device is the well-known poll tax, now under so devastating fire from so many important quarters that it seems doomed indeed. There is slight doubt that the Republican convention which meets in June will vigorously denounce the poll tax as an iniquitous discrimination which violates the spirit of the Constitution and pledge itself to find some means of exterminating it.

PRIMARY, the Republicans will do this because of the Negro vote, so large a part of which in the Northern debatable States was stolen away by the New Dealers and which, since 1936, they have been making the most strenuous efforts to recapture. In eleven or twelve of these debatable States, for three generations, the Negro vote had been the basic Republican asset. In 1936, ninety-six per cent. of it went for Mr. Roosevelt. In 1938 about fifty-three per cent. swung back to the G. O. P. Republican success in the 1940 election hinges upon ability to hold that fifty-three per cent., or increase it. Recent agitation about the poll tax presents an opportunity. It can be accepted as sure that they will not overlook the chance to convince the Negro that the Republicans are his real friends.

ON the other hand, it seems equally certain that the Republican denunciation of the poll tax at least will be matched by the Democrats. It is the obvious and almost inevitable politics to play. In the first place, President Roosevelt is already on record as against the poll tax. In the second place, the importance of the Negro vote in New York, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Missouri, Illinois and Michigan is recognized by every Democratic leader outside of the South. Whether Mr. Roosevelt runs again or not, the Democratic politicians in these States will compete with the Republicans for this vote. The Southern protest, in or out of the convention, will not deter them from steps to block any Republican bid.

THE time has gone by when the Solid South can dominate or dictate to Democratic conventions on racial questions—or, for that matter, any other. It was a foolish thing the South did when it acquiesced in abolition of the two-thirds rule. Now it is saddled with an Administration which, through relief funds, Federal patronage and personal cultivation, deliberately has gone after the very vote in the North which Democrats in the South have barred from the polls. Yet so linked is the South to the party that it has no effective way to protest. It has to go along because there isn't any place else to go.

THE case against the poll tax is a strong one. Recently it has been well presented by Mr. Ulric Bell in the Louisville Courier Journal and by others. The most devastating point is that, while this provision does keep the Negroes from voting, it also keeps the whites from voting. In some States it keeps more whites than Negroes from the polls. Its net effect has been to reduce the total vote in the eight poll-tax States to a ridiculously insignificant size. For example, in 1936 only 20.4 per cent. of the adult population voted in Alabama; 18.5 per cent. in Georgia; 16.2 per cent. in Mississippi; 14.1 per cent. in South Carolina; 26.2 per cent. in Texas; 25.7 per cent. in Virginia; 33.5 per cent. in Tennessee.

BUT an even more trenchant point is made. The election figures appear to convict these Southern States of clear violation of the provision of the Constitution which bases a State's representation in Congress not upon total population but upon the number of citizens who vote. If this provision were applied to the eight poll-tax States, election statisticians assert that they would lose fifty-seven of their seventy-eight House seats, on the basis of the 1936 election figures. Using the 1938 figures, sixty-five of the seventy-eight would be eliminated. In 1938, thirty-two Southern poll-tax Congressmen received fewer than 11,000 votes each, and the combined vote for all thirty-two was 221,270, which is 60,000 fewer than the approximate

Supper-Program At Reunion Of Campers In Y. W.

Toy Orchestra And Play Features Program; New Counsellors Are Introduced

Highlighting the program at the Camp Reunion in the Y. W. C. A. Wednesday evening were the toy orchestra, which "brought down the house," and the presentation of Jean Cameron's contest winning play, "Happy Days Are Here Again."

Ninety girls gathered in the green room at the "Y" for the event and after singing grace, were served with a tasty camp supper prepared by members of the Girl Reserves committee. Mrs. J. Glenn Berry, chairman of the committee, presided at the meeting afterwards.

Numbers by the orchestra, directed by Miss Mettie Round, a Girl Reserve advisor from the Washington club, opened the program, after which Helen Hayes, chairman of the Girls' Camp committee, explained the various projects the committee had undertaken, including the toy orchestra, trimming the Community Chest window, and from this committee came the recommendation that a period be scheduled for senior high Girl Reserves only. This committee also sponsored the play writing contest won by Miss Cameron.

New counseliors were introduced: Mrs. George Bloom of Ellwood City will carry responsibility for photography and nature; Miss Bessie Burrows will have charge of dramatics; Miss Louise Dugan of Poland, O., will have charge of swimming, and Ruth Peterson, a former member of Girl Reserves and one of the few wearers of the G. R. pin, will play the piano. Other counsellors not present at the reunion are Miss Anne O'Hara, crafts, and Miss Cornell Arbogast, dancing, both of Pittsburgh.

It was announced that Mrs. Pearl Mills and Mrs. Essie Morrison will be at camp to do the cooking, while Thomas Outhwaite, "Mr. Fixit," to campers, will be there to fix the hundred and one things that need "fixing" every day.

Following the introduction of counsellors, "Happy Days Are Here Again" was presented, and Miss Dorothy Stewart, camp director, reminded the girls about registering for camp as soon as possible, because now that registrations are open to out of town girls, the periods will quickly reach capacity. At intervals during the evening, camp songs were sung, accompanied by Miss Peterson.

Camp folders were mailed last week to former campers, but anyone wishing a folder may receive one by calling at the Y. W. C. A. office.

basis fixed for one Congressman in the last reapportionment. One Representative in Chicago, in 1938, received 28,000 more votes than all these thirty-two Southern Congressmen.

IT is, of course, an absurd situation, very hard to defend—legally or any other way. If one party takes a stand against it in convention, the other will be compelled to do likewise, because it, too, has come to rely for its victories upon the Negro votes in the important electoral States. If the Republicans take a strong position and the Democrats do not, the former have an effective campaign issue and can quote Mr. Roosevelt on their side. Clearly, the Democrats can't afford to let that happen—and won't. The eight Southern States are in a jam. They have been "sold down the river" by the very regime they put into power in 1932 and 1936—and they can't do a thing about it. Under the circumstances, it seems almost incredibly sappish that some of them should want to continue this regime for four more years.

Cascade Park Being Prepared For 1940 Season

In preparation for opening Cascade park to the public this season several new projects and remodeled buildings have been completed. The geyser pool and fountain, near Superintendent Coulthard's office has been completed, and the remodeled restaurant building in the recreation grounds is near completion.

All the buildings and fences are being painted, giving a brighter appearance to them all.

Good progress is being made on the project of cleaning out the lake.

Flower beds have been arranged in the various locations and are all ready to be planted at the proper time.

Girl scouts used the Community hall at the park, on Saturday, for a rehearsal for a pageant, in which about 350 took part.

The hall has a good stage and accessories.

CONSERVATION GROUP MEETS AT LUDWIG HOME

The Highland avenue home of Mrs. Max Ludwig was the scene of a social gathering Wednesday afternoon when the Conservation and Garden department of the Woman's club held a benefit bridge and plant exchange.

A handsome door prize was awarded to Mrs. E. O. Flora, which was a fiesta set, donated by Mrs. Irving Grossman. Top score prizes were given at each table of bridge.

Mrs. Owen Fox, Mrs. Andrew Dodds and Mrs. Charles McCullough were in charge of the plant exchange, with the plants and flowers being attractively displayed in a purple and green wire basket.

Tea was served at the pastel organdy covered tables.

Those who assisted Mrs. Ludwig were Mrs. Harry Sturdevant, Mrs. W. L. Cosel and Mrs. Raymond Horchler.

GROUPS SEW ARTICLES AT JAMESON HOSPITAL

Much was accomplished at the regular bi-weekly sewing session held in the solarium of Jameson Memorial Hospital Wednesday morning, when the Mt. Jackson Ira M. Hamill Missionary Society joined to share their services with the hostess groups, the Lawrence County Medical Society and the Girls Club, who are in charge this month. Mrs. E. C. Wiggins is president of the group from the Mt. Jackson church.

Items needed for immediate use were completed in large quantities yesterday, with the women sewing from 9 until 12 o'clock. A good representation of the three organizations was noted.

Cutters for the day were Mrs. D. C. Lindley and Mrs. Norman A. Martin.

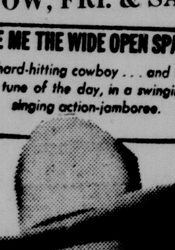

TEA ROOM PARTY FOR PROGRESSIVES

Progressive Bridge club members were entertained in a tea room Wednesday evening, with Mrs. Charles Levine, hostess in charge. High awards for honors in the card contests, fell to Mrs. Frank Schneider, Mrs. Harry Hildebrand and Mrs. Jesse Cox, the latter being the "galloper." Mrs. Edward Van-Dusen was a special guest.

Lunch was enjoyed at the close, and at the next meeting on Wednes May 29, at the home of Mrs. Carl Groetsch, Leasure avenue: election of officers will take place, as the final event of the season.

"Blind Bombing" Is Newest Invention For Use Of Fliers

By LEON W. SHLOSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 16.—A new, secret invention that may revolutionize aerial warfare, permitting for the first time accurate and devastating "blind bombing", will be studied by the war department, it was learned today.

Perfection of the new device, which has withstood preliminary tests successfully, would buttress tremendously the intensified American national defense program stimulated by Germany's conquests in Europe, war department officials said.

Arriving hard upon multiple reports of new German and British "secret weapons", the only secret about the new device is the manner of its construction.

Bombs Dropped Blindly

Invented by Lieut. Bruce Von G. Scott, former air corps instructor who now is assistant chief of the army's munitions development arsenal near Baltimore, the newest "secret weapon", simply described, is a gadget which, for the first time, will record the ground speed of an airplane in flight.

The military significance of such a device is that it will permit bombing planes accurately to drop their devastating charges from altitudes so great that the aircraft will be invisible from the ground, and beyond reach of anti-aircraft guns.

War department officials, in discussing Scott's invention, stressed the incalculable psychological and military advantages which would accrue to a nation whose air force could, virtually at will and unmolested, rain a hail of destruction on enemy troop concentrations, railheads, supply and ammunition dumps and other military objectives.

Details Not Divulged

At present, elaborate calculations are necessary to determine how many ground miles a plane is covering per hour. Even then, the calculations usually are inaccurate because so many factors have to be assumed.

If the Scott instrument proves successful, bombers could take off and release their bombs from great heights after the known number of miles to any military objective had been covered. It is understood that the Scott ground speed indicator can be applied to a map of any scale, so that a needle will travel over the map and indicate the airplane's exact position at all times.

Scott said today that he was not free to reveal how his device worked, but asserted that it had accurately recorded speeds up to 300 miles an hour, which is well beyond the cruising speeds of modern bombers. He has been working on the device since his graduation from West Point.

Pittsburgh Man Will Be Speaker

Dr. A. Gordon Mac Lennan To Make Two Addresses At County Convention

Dr. A. Gordon MacLennan, pastor of the Shady Side United Presbyterian church, will bring two inspirational messages at the 102nd convention of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association, which will be held at the Epworth Methodist church, New Castle, Thursday, June 13, morning, afternoon and evening sessions. Dr. MacLennan has a group of two or three hundred men gather every Friday at the Down Town Y. M. C. A. in Pittsburgh, to hear him give an exposition on the lesson for the coming Sunday. Other program participants from out of the county will be J Raymond Schmidt of Washington, D C., general secretary of the National Civic league, and Miss A. Myfanwy Roberts, children's division superintendent of the Pennsylvanuia State Sabbath School Association.

Miss Alice Grimes, a teacher in the New Castle schools who will be an instructor at State Camp Caledon at Erie this summer, will have charge of the convention literature table. Miss Grimes secures material for distribution from about thirty publishing houses in this country, and there is always great demand for this material that is available without cost. The Epworth church has splendid facilities for displaying this material.

The convention meals will be in charge of Mrs. T. M. Shaffer and her assistants will be the ladies of the convention church.

Memorial Day Plans Complete

Committee Completes Arrangements For Annual Observance Here

Plans for Memorial Day were virtually completed at a meeting of the general committee, Chairman C. Ed Brown announced today, and only a few details have to be worked out for the annual observance here on May 30.

The same general plan which has been used in the past will be followed, with a parade forming at the Legion Home at 8:45 a. m. and proceeding to the Penn theater, where memorial services will take place. Chairman T. John Stoner of the speakers committee announced that Attorney William J. Caldwell, World war veteran, will be the speaker, and there will be a program in the theater, starting at 9:15 o'clock.

Afterwards, the marchers will reform and proceed to Greenwood cemetery, where the services at the soldiers' plot will be in charge of the United Spanish War Veetrans. As previously announced, ex-Shehiff Edward D. Pritchard will be parade marshal.

Special memorial services will take place on the Sunday preceding Memorial Day. The usual water services will take place at the North street bridge in charge of the Ladies of the G. A. R., after which those taking part will parade to the First Presbyterian church, where Dr. John J. McIlvaine will deliver the memorial service.

Flags will be placed on the graves of all veterans prior to the Sunday before Memorial Day.

PRESIDENT CALLS UPON CONGRESS TO PROVIDE BILLION

start at once a program that will "provide us with 50,000 military and naval planes."

Production On 24-Hour Basis

The president requested that all military and naval production—both private and government—be placed at once on a 24-hour basis, and that this apply to defense construction in the immediate future.

Mr. Roosevelt further asked that congress take no action which would in any way hamper or delay delivery of American made planes "to foreign nations which have ordered them, or seek to purchase more planes."

Requesting an immediate appropriation of $896,000,000 Mr. Roosevelt said he would divide it approximately as follows:

Division Of Fund

1. For the army $546,000,000.
2. For the navy and marine corps $250,000,000.
3. To the president to provide for emergencies affecting the national security and defense $100,000,000.

In addition he requested authorization enabling the army, navy and marine corps to make contract obligations in further sum of $186,000,000.

He asked that he be permitted to make additional contract authorizations for $100,000,000.

The president advised congress that the greater part of the $200,000,000 in appropriations and authorizations to be controlled by him would be used primarily to increase production of airplanes, anti-aircraft guns, and the training of additional personnel for these weapons.

Speaks To Crowded Chamber

Standing before an intently jammed house chamber, President Roosevelt reviewed solemnly recent developments in the European war.

He pointed out that this continent was vulnerable to possible attack by air from Greenland within four to six hours.

He warned that modern bombers could reach our eastern seaboard from Bermuda within three hours if that British possession fell into hostile hands.

The coast of Florida, he said, could be reached in 200 minutes from the outer West Indies.

Similarly, he pointed out that the flying distance from Brazil is but seven hours and he measured variously the brief time in which the Canal zone could be hit and our interior cities reached from Mexico.

Possibility Of Attack

"Surely, the developments of the past few weeks have made it clear to all of our citizens," he said, "that the possibility of attack on vital American zones ought to make it essential that we have the physical, the ready ability to meet those attacks and to prevent them from reaching their objectives.

"This means military implements—not on paper—which are ready and available to meet any lightning offensive against our American interests.

"It means also that facilities for production must be ready to turn out munitions and equipment at top speed.

"We have had the lesson before us over and over again—nations that were not ready and were unable to get ready found themselves overrun by the enemy. So-called impregnable fortifications no longer exist.

"A defense which allows an enemy to consolidate his approach without hindrance will lose. A defense which makes no effective effort to destroy the lines of supplies and communications of the enemy will lose."

Mr. Roosevelt in his message today did not go into figures on his defense program. He advised congress that the proposed details of the requested appropriations and authorizations would be given to the proper committees.

FRENCH CLAIM GERMANS HELD IN SEDAN AREA

along the front between Sedan and Namur is confused and serious, but that there is no need for anxiety.

In Death Struggle

Allied and German warplanes and motorized units were locked in a death struggle between the French and Belgian cities as the allies launched counter-attacks aimed at throwing the Germans back into the river Meuse.

"I can only make general indications," the French military spokesman said, "but the enemy apparently crossed the Meuse at several points, from which he is throwing tanks, armored cars, mobile artillery and mechanized forces as hard as possible deep into the rear of our lines.

"I assure you we took our dispositions in plenty of time and we are confident that we will settle this question.

"There is no reason for panic among the population."

Counter-Attack Succeeds

A counter-attack launched by the French late yesterday, it was disclosed, succeeded in ironing out part of the salient forced by the Germans at Sedan. Some of the German forces were driven back to the Meuse river, it was claimed. The Germans were unable to penetrate through Sedan and were held there, according to French advices.

The Germans, according to the Paris spokesman, brought up heavy war equipment to the front north of Namur yesterday and attacked Belgian and British forces, but all these attacks were repulsed with what the spokesman termed a "slaughter" by the Germans.

East of Sedan there were localized and 'unimportant engagements' in which the Germans used heavy artillery in a barrage against the French Vosges forest area, the spokesman said.

"Not Reached Maginot Line"

"But the Germans have not yet attacked the Maginot line," the spokesman insisted.

He said the French heavily shelled German ammunition dumps across the Rhine river yesterday and throughout the night.

(Editor's Note: In London it was announced that British warplanes raided German communications east of the Rhine in the heaviest attack delivered by the royal air force.)

That the French high command has abandoned its war of position tactics in favor of a war of movement was made clear by today's French war communique, which stated:

"From the region of Namur to that of Sedan the battle has taken on the characteristics of open warfare, with participation on both sides of motorized units and of aviation.

"Higher interests of the conduct of the operations compel us at the present moment not to give any precise information as to the actions which are now taking place."

German Infantry Checked

(Editor's Note: An announcement by the Brussels radio said German mechanized columns had succeeded in penetrating the allied lines at several points to a considerable depth, but added the motorized units were not supported by German infantry.

(German infantry detachments, according to the broadcast, were being checked by the French.

(Nevertheless, said the broadcast, the new situation is regarded as grave. Because of it the French high command decided to abandon the positional type of warfare hitherto followed and employ tactics better suited to a war of movement, the announcer added.)

Blows against the Germans in the Sedan area were hurled wtih stunning force in an effort to dislodge the Nazis from the dent they had punched in the extension of France's Maginot line defenses.

The French forces were moving to "extremely favorable" positions preparatory to further action, it was announced.

Meanwhile, officials revealed that a German bombing plane had been shot down during the night in the Paris region.

Anne Morgan And Ambulance Corps Under Shell Fire

Cut Off From All Aid In Chateau Near Belgian Front Is Report

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 16—Anne Morgan, sister of Banker J. P. Morgan and her corps of ten ambulances and American drivers, are under German shell fire, cut off from all aid in a chateau near the Belgian front.

News of the American volunteer's peril was telephoned by Miss Morgan today to James Wood Johnson, director of the American Volunteer ambulance corps in France.

Miss Morgan related that she and her corps had driven into the shell-torn sector in order to bring out civilian refugees but that they had been caught between German and allied fire and were stranded near the front line.

Since the telephone call early today, Johnson reported that he had heard nothing more and that telephonic communication had been attempted again but had failed.

Prior to the telephone call, Johnson had been notified by Col Jas. V. Sparks head of the corps in Paris, that four of the American ambulances had been partially destroyed gy German shell fire "in a deliberate attempt to destroy them."

The drivers, he stated, had miraculously escaped injury. The four drivers are among the group stranded in the chateau with Miss Morgan.

Investigators' Report On Probe In State

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 16.—The house appropriation WPA sub-committee, which conducted an exhaustive investigation of relief conditions, Wednesday afternoon bared reports of its counsel and investigators on Pennsylvania which disclosed findings that:

1—Politics was evidenced through a 10,000-man increase in Pennsylvania WPA rolls just before the election in 1938 with "large numbers of dismissals shortly after election". This despite indications that the increase would result in "overmanning of projects".

2—Improvements were made in private property, some of it owned by WPA officials, and roads were built which would "peculiarly benefit certain individuals". The investigators could not supply exact costs involved.

3—Over $800,000 was spent for transportation of Philadelphia WPA workers to projects in outlying counties, the round-trip by train and truck leaving only about two hours per day for actual work on the projects.

4—WPA officials were allowed to hold their jobs despite their indictment for fraud in connection with WPA. Examples cited were Charles M. Emerick, state director of adult education, Harrisburg, and Walter F. Jones, district WPA supervisor, Pottsville.

Criticizes Types of Projects

The report, submitted by J. O'Connor Roberts, counsel for the subcommittee, also carried criticism of two types of Pennsylvania WPA projects which brought swift defense from WPA Commissioner F. C. Harrington and State Administrator Philip Mathews. These projects were those for mine sealing, particularly in the bituminous fields of western Pennsylvania, and privy building.

The report stated that the mine sealing projects were on private property and that after being launched as a sanitation program were discontinued by the U. S. public health service, "based on the fact that the state-wide project submitted did not show that it was necessary as a health measure."

Harrington pointed out that the projects had stopped the discharge of 1,000,000 pounds of mine acid daily into Pennsylvania streams. The U. S. public health service, he said, "urgently encourages" such projects wherever possible. Privy building, on which WPA spent $2,727,585 and sponsors $1,217,761, had received the "highest commendation" everywhere that it has been done." Mathews asserted that the charge that the Pennsylvania railroad and Bethlehem Steel companies had benefitted principally from this project was probably because they lost sight of existence of "company towns" in Pennsylvania. Mathews said:

"In many instances entire towns are situated on lands owned by large coal companies and railroad companies, and certainly to deprive people living in these communities of the health benefits afforded by the construction of sanitary units, would defeat the primary purpose of the project."

Retaining Walls

Erection of retaining walls by WPA labor embraced specific cases, according to the committee, as follows:

Wall in front of the Hudson Coal, the Ashman and the Elvidge properties at Throop, Pa.; wall and steps in front of private property at Blakeley, Pa.; wall in front of coal company property at Peckville; wall and culvert on coal company property at Peckville; wall on property near Cortez, Pa., owned by Harold Swift, assistant WPA district manager, and Leonard Boland, zone engineer. Boland is a brother-in-law of Swift, they added.

"The evidence reveals the presence of a retaining wall as well as a road in front of the Swift-Boland property constructed by WPA labor," the report stated. "There is also evidence to substantiate the fact that WPA labor was used to riprap the driveway and an approach to the driveway...Evidence also shows that a dam was constructed on said property and by Boland's own admission WPA trucks hauled and dumped 20 loads of rock and dirt on his property for construction of the dam. An affidavit was secured from a WPA foreman (still employed) alleging that with other WPA workers he engaged in demolition of a building on behalf of Boland and that the salvage was hauled to the property owned by Boland. An affidavit was also secured from one Ralph M. C. Hale, WPA time-keeper, wherein he states that he turned in time for WPA laborers engaged in work on the dam on the Boland-Swift property...."

The WPA division of investigations exonerated Boland-Swift, the report stated.

Among other matters questioned in the report was that of some $1,139 damage to the state senate gallery and other state property during 1936 Workers Alliance "hunger march" on the capitol. The report also criticized the construction of the "look out" project on route 11 outside Wilkes-Barre.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys
If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.
The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.
If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

OUT OF THE MAILBAG

Some of the letters I get are cheery, many are filled with troubles, a few are despondent, but all of them are interesting to me. From up here in Callander, they enable me to look into the windows of the world. Unfortunately, it is always difficult to be genuinely helpful in individual cases at long range, and I feel a particular inadequacy when I receive such a letter as came to me from one signing herself "Despondent Grandmother."

It told a pathetic story about a child, four-and-a-half years of age, who "Doesn't walk, or talk, or see very good. He was a premature baby, only weighed four pounds at birth. He is normal in size. Could you tell us any cure, or any doctor who could help us?"

I can't write to Despondent grandmother personally, because she failed to give me a sufficient address. So I tell her here to take the child to any M. D. specializing in treatment of children. Any county or city medical society will refer her to one. If money is a factor, if doctor's bills cannot be met, then I urge her to take the child to one of the baby clinics located all over the country, and any of them would be glad to help free of charge. She can get a list of them from her State board of health or local medical society.

Of course, I cannot from this letter, form any idea of the nature of the child's condition. One should know something of the mentality of the child, something of his parents and something of his environment before attempting to diagnose.

Obviously, a child of four and a half years should be walking well, should be talking and its eyesight should be good. What causes the defects, only a careful physical examination can disclose.

The fact that while the child was premature, weighing only four pounds at birth, it today is of normal size, and indicates that the trouble may not be organic.

I have found a good many parents are too anxious to have their child walking and talking. If the child is a few months late saying words or if he is past the normal age when he begins to walk its family is all upset.

Of course, its unusual for a child not to be talking at four and a half years. Yet there are occasional cases in which a child gets pretty old before his flood gates of speech open. Ordinarily walking begins when the child is a little over a year old. But some children don't walk until they are three or even four. I have even known a child to be almost five before walking.

Another possibility is that this grandchild has been isolated from other children and waited on and spoiled so much that it won't learn to do things for itself. I have seen cases suggesting this possibility. Persons just don't walk and talk automatically as they breathe and sleep. They must learn to walk and to talk and must want to keep doing them.

The Dionne Quintuplets were slow in learning formal language because they acquired a habit of conversing among themselves in a sort of gesture language. More self-sufficient than are most children, because there were so many of them and because most of their needs were anticipated or provided for, they didn't feel the need for conversation with adults. So we had to more or less force them to begin talking.

Whether the trouble with this grandchild is psychological or physical, only a doctor able to examine the child will know what, if anything, can be done to make the child develop normally. Hence my advice to the grandmother to seek out first hand advice.

Motorists' Lifts Cut Trolley Fares

Veterans Of Lines Claim 1,000 Riders Lost Daily To Autoists

Trolley motormen today said the courtesy of New Castle motorists who invite waiting street car passengers to ride with them now costs the traction line "more than 1,000 fares on an average day".

The thoughtfulness—which is natural—brings "unfair competition to our jobs and livelihood," Charles E. Douglas, president, and J. E. Gorman, vice president of the New Castle unit, Amalgamated Association of Street Electric Railway & Motor Coach Employes of America, declared.

Both Douglas and Gorman are veteran operators here. Their service covers more than 25 years.

"I think if motorists were informed about the loss of fares, they'd look upon it differently," the officers said. "It's unfair competition in a sense, and it brings a risk to operator employment."

Both officers said operators greatly appreciate the present patronage of their lines.

School Board Members Meet

Treasurer Is Re-elected — Arrangements Made For Annual Enumeration

OTHER MATTERS BEFORE BOARD

C. C. McKibben, city treasurer, was re-elected as school treasurer Wednesday night when the New Castle School Board met and his salary fixed at the same amount it had been, $250 per year.

School enumerators were authorized for the coming summer months, one enumerator being selected in each of seven wards and two in the second ward. Each director will name one enumerator. The enumeration is of pre-school age children and is required by law. Five cents each is paid for each name enumerated.

The board authorized the purchase of 50 barrels of oil for use in oiling streets upon which schools face.

The board agreed to act as sponsor for another year for the Crawford Oak Ridge project, at no expense to the board.

A communication was received from the Lancaster township school board in Butler county demanding payment of tuition for Blanche Sinclair of New Castle whose parents live in New Castle but who are living in Lancaster township and attending school there. The board refused to pay the bill upon the grounds that a child's school residence is that of its parents residence and in this case the parents live in New Castle.

City Treasurer C. C. McKibben returned a total of $107,800.75 school taxes uncollected for 1939 which he has filed with the county commissioners and asked exoneration for. This amount is $18,000 less than the previous year. The exoneration was granted.

The board voted to compromise a 1931-1932 school tax levied against a property in the fourth ward which had been purchased at sheriff's sale in 1932 by a Pittsburgh bank. At the time of the sale the bank had asked for a complete statement of taxes, and paid the total shown by the county treasurer.

In the May sales of properties to the county commissioners for delinquent taxes, the property in question was sold for 1931-32 delinquent school taxes. The bank argued that it had asked for a full statement, and had never been notified of any delinquency. It offered to pay the face of the tax plus interest and penalties as of Aug. 11, 1932, a total of $365.12. The total due on the day of the sale is to be $772.05. The board agreed to accept the compromise payment.

An exoneration of $49.14 was authorized upon the property of St. Philip and James church in the eighth ward which was placed upon the assessable list in error.

A letter was received from the Committee of the Unemployed Organization which was both commendatory and critical. The organization commends the board for its decision to reinstal shop work in the schools and protested against the bringing in of an outside collection agency to collect delinquent per capita taxes.

Says Sanatorium Near Butler Will Open September 1

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 16—The new Butler tuberculosis sanatorium will open on September 1, majority leader G. Mason Owlett, Tioga, today had informed the Pennsylvania senate.

This assurance came during the Republican leader's swan song. Senator Owlett's eight years in the senate end today. He has become general counsel to the Pennsylvania Manufacturer's Association.

The Butler sanatorium came in for considerable discussion as the special session of the legislature neared its close, with two Democratic senators, C. Hale Sipe, of the Butler-Armstrong district, and William J. Eroe, Jr., of the Beaver-Lawrence district, disputing which of their districts possessed the best site for the newly constructed building.

In Religious and Fraternal Circles

Rev. Fraser Present

Members attending the First Baptist church prayer meeting Wednesday evening, were agreeably surprised with the attendance of Rev. Forrest Fraser, of the First Baptist church, Saginaw, Michigan, and Mrs. Fraser.

Rev. Fraser was assistant pastor, 37 years ago, to Rev. Jacob Sallade, then pastor of the First Baptist church.

Rev. and Mrs. Fraser are enroute to attend the Northern Baptist convention, at Atlantic City, next week, calling at Milton, Pa., to visit Mrs. Fraser's relatives.

Over night, the couple were the guests of Mrs. W. H. Williams, (formerly Mrs. Sallade) of Laurel avenue.

Plan Joint Meeting

L. O. L. District 14 Orange Lodges of Butler, Beaver Falls, Ellwood City, Rochester, New Brighton and New Castle, will hold a joint meeting tonight in the Modern Woodmen of America hall, East Washington street, at 8 o'clock.

A large delegation from each town is expected. The members will be entertained by the local ladies lodge number 24, after the regular business meeting.

Protected Home Circle

New Castle Circle 5 of the Protected Home Circle lodge met on Wednesday evening in the I. O. O. F. hall on East Washington street, with visitors from Ellwood City and Sharon sharing honors.

A. L. Conn announced during the routine period that the memorial services for departed Circle members will take place Sunday evening at 7:45, May 19, in the Central Presbyterian church on the Public Square. Friends of members are invited to share in the services.

An informal social hour closed the meeting.

People's Mission Revival

Revival services under way at the Peoples Mission of the Christian and Missionary Alliance are growing in interest each night. Another responsive audience was present last night.

Evangelist Willard Lichtenwalner, of New Jersey, will deliver tonight's message in the Sampson street church at 7:30. This will be observed as Young People's night and the message will be directed to the young people. The Welker trio will again be present along with other groups to present special music.

Bethany Lodge At Ohio

Bethany Lodge, L. L. O. I., will motor to Youngstown, Wednesday evening, May 22, where they will be guests in the home of Mrs. Alice Bowes at an evening party. Associates will meet at the home of Mrs. Kate Womeldurf, North street, at 7.

Plans were formulated at their Wednesday evening meeting in their club rooms in the Fountain Inn hotel. Additional plans were also made to attend the birthday anniversary celebration of the Ellwood City lodge 163 in Ellwood on May 31. Mrs. Marie Bixler has charge of transportation.

May 29, members will meet again in the hotel.

Class To Meet

Members of the Willing Workers class of the Croton avenue Methodist church will meet with Mrs. C. G. Weygant, 414 East Leasure avenue, this evening at 8 o'clock.

Relief Chiselers Being Located

Over $619,000 Recovered In Year In State By Relief Investigators

By JOHN PAGET
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, May 16.—Eighty-four investigators for the department of public assistance intensified their campaign today to "catch up" with relief chiselers who annually drain more than $500,000 from the state's treasury.

Under a recently devised plan, eight units of the department's claims settlement division were established at strategic points thruout the state, replacing a system which provided for an investigating section in each of the 67 counties.

Each unit, staffed by trained investigators, launched a detailed probe of thousands of "phoney" relief clients. Wholesale prosecutions were initiated.

Records revealed that for the year ending April 30, 1940, approximately $619,000 was recovered from chiselers on the relief rolls, while an additional $413,000 was paid back to the department through settlements.

"We are operating on a policy that every dollar a chiseler takes is a dollar taken from a deserving recipient and a dollar robbed from the taxpayer's pocket," emphasized Secretary of Public Assistance Howard L. Russell.

State Farmers Allotted 850,089 Acres For Wheat

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 16.—Pennsylvania farmers have been allotted a wheat acreage of 850,089 acres under the 1941 soil conservation program by the AAA.

A national 1941 quota of 62,000,000 acres has been established. The Pennsylvania allotment represents the state's share of these plantings. The state apportionment of 350,089 acres will be allotted to counties and then to individual farmers participating in the AAA program.

Farmers complying with these quota limitations become eligible for Federal benefit payments, Federal crop insurance, parity payments and wheat loans.

Will Intern All Germans-Austrians In Great Britain

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 16—The order for temporary internment of all male Germans and Austrians between the ages of 16 and 60 was extended to all of Great Britain today, according to an official announcement.

Previously the measure applied only to the eastern section of Britain save for the greater London area.

The London Evening Standard reported that more than 2,000 Scotland yard agents, using 400 automobiles, rounded up 2,000 aliens in London within an hour this morning.

The new precautions are designed to prevent the possibility of "fifth column" activities in England in the event of a direct German attack on this country.

Foreman's Clubs Hear Horrocks

President of National Association Speaks At Ellwood Gathering

NEW OFFICERS ARE PRESENTED

ELLWOOD CITY, May 16—A. C. Horrocks, dynamic president of the National Association of Foreman's clubs, told members of the Foreman's club of the National Tube company at their May dinner meeting last evening at the Trinity Lutheran church that industry in America is at the crossroads at the present time due to the rapid market fluctuations, it being impossible to look more than two or three weeks ahead.

"Our industrial set-up is the envy of the world" he declared and added sixty per cent of the gold is in the United States. Forty-five million depositors have a total of 32 billion dollars in U. S. because deposit are insured. United States has the largest credit exchange in the world. The amount of good that can be done with this money is the most important thing, the speaker declared, continuing "this is the last remaining frontier in the world where you can do as you please."

Only four per cent of the farmers in the world are in United States and in spite of this small percentage United States produces more of the agricultural products than any other country. In seventeen states of this country, ninety-three per cent of the world's industry is maintained.

The speaker stressed his belief that machinery does not force men out of work and stated that Steinbeck's Oakies were found only in the backward states. The production of machinery creates more jobs, he maintained.

"The world needs a strong arm policeman to keep backyard dictators quiet, because there will be no peace or security for United States while dictators are on the loose," Mr. Horrocks declared. Rubber, tea, coffee and tin are the only products not produced in America and they could be produced if necessary. Tin is the biggest problem, because United States would have only three week's supply if the market should be closed, he emphasized.

Japan and Germany are both afraid of United States because of its raw materials, money and man power, declared the speaker.

Less greed and more looking out for the other fellow, with a desire to preserve peace and security, is the need of United States, he continued.

America has become great for five reasons, according to Mr. Horrocks, namely: free land (no more): increasing immigration, now closed: increasing foreign trade, now curtailed: ability of people to save money, and hard work.

In closing his stirring address, Mr. Horrocks spoke directly to the foreman in regard to their relation with employees. Better methods of production have taken much responsibility from the foreman. Lack of human contact in industry has made man a machine, he declared and continued friendly contact is necessary if there is to be cooperation between labor and industry

Preceding the program, the club quartet led by Morris Phelps delighted the assemblage with three selections, "Bells," "Don't You Cry My Honey," and "Endearing Young Charms."

President Walter B. Baisch presided and presented the new officers: President, H. E. King; vice president, Spurgeon E. Elder; secretary, George B. Wilson and treasurer, James D. Kirk.

Announcement was made of the Western Reserve annual conference to be held in Cleveland on Saturday, May 25. The Shelby Male Chorus will sing at the evening session.

Until regular dinner meetings are resumed in September, the only club activity during the summer will be the annual picnic in July.

Fidelity Class Will Buy Bond

ELLWOOD CITY, May 16.—Fifteen members of the Fidelity class of the Bell Memorial Presbyterian church were welcomed for the May meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. William McMurdo, of First avenue, with Mrs. Warren Hockenberry and Mrs. John Snare being associate hostesses.

Opening devotions were led by Mrs. Harry Huffman and Mrs. Stella Jackson. During the meeting plans were made to buy a bond for the church building fund.

A pleasant social hour followed with the hostesses serving a dainty lunch.

Another meeting will be held on Tuesday, June 11, with Mrs. Jesse Newton, Mrs. Tribby and Mrs. Charles Cunningham to be hostesses.

HOSPITAL NOTES

ELLWOOD CITY, May 16.—Admitted: Robert Herman, Zelienople; George Stewart, route 2; and Patricia Toth, Glen avenue.

Adopting a faith in youth indicates conviction, courage and character. Late in life it indicates you're scared.

Famous Mothers Portrayed At Church Banquet

Unusual Program Features Annual Dinner At First Methodist Church

ELLWOOD CITY, May 16.—One of the most enjoyable of the many mother and daughter banquets took place last evening at the First Methodist church with some 125 members and guests participating.

The long tables were attractively decorated with a pink and white color motif. Men of the church served the delicious dinner which was prepared by women of the Bell Memorial church. Mrs. Paul Winter offered the invocation.

Mrs. Charles Adams presented lovely gifts to Mrs. William Hall, the oldest mother; Mrs. Catherine Williams, the youngest mother; and Mrs. Fred Buquo, the mother with the most daughters.

Miss Janet Lytle was the pleasing toastmistress with the toast to the mothers being given by Mrs. Earl Allen, response to the daughters by Mrs. Margaret Whittaker; toast to grandmothers by Mrs. Robert McKim and response to the granddaughters, Miss Thelma Winters.

Pictures of famous mothers were portrayed on the stage and as each mother made her appearance a song was played appropriate to the picture represented. Those taking part were: Red Cross mother, Mrs. Percy Lytle; pioneer mother, Mrs. A. O. McCurdy; Irish mother, Mrs. Vere Daubenspeck; Betsy Ross, Mrs. R. A. Snedden; Mother Goose, Mrs. J. N. Welling; southern mammy, Mrs. Charles Nicholson; modern mothers, Mrs. Ter Linden, Mrs. Charles Adams and Mrs. Elmer Greenham; and Whistler's mother, Mrs. C. V. Patton.

Added program high-lights were two solos: "Mother Machree" by Miss Jean Carson; and "Wonderful Mother of Mine" by Mrs. O. J. Kemp.

Mrs. Leroy Maxwell was in charge of the detailed arrangements and much credit is given her for the successful evening.

Mrs. Harry Gabler Is Mission Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, May 16.—Mrs. Harry Gabler hospitably entertained members of the Women's Missionary society of the Lilyville Lutheran church for an all-day meeting on Wednesday at her home on the Ellwood-Wampum road.

Eleven members and four guests, Mrs. John Nagel, Mrs. Alice Yahn, Mrs. Ada Taylor and Mrs. Edward Nye, participated in the day's activities which included quilting and sewing.

At noon the hostess served a tempting tureen dinner, being aided by Mrs. John Gabler and Mrs. Nye.

Rev. W. E. Mitchell led the devotional period and Mrs. Adam Varner was in charge of the meeting during which secret sisters were disclosed in a novel manner.

Another meeting will be held on Wednesday, June 19, at the Mitchell home at Middle Lancaster.

Mrs. John Miller Entertains Group

ELLWOOD CITY, May 16.—Mrs. John Miller opened her home on Third street in a pleasing manner last evening to members of the Young Women's Missionary society of the German Lutheran church who gathered for the May meeting.

The topics, "China" and "British Guinea", were presented by Miss Mary Paul and Mrs. John Zikell.

During the social hour the hostess was aided in serving a nice lunch by Mrs. Ollie Miller.

It was agreed to meet again on Wednesday, June 19, at the home of Rev. Ludwig Beisecker on Hazel avenue, with Miss Rose Segedi to be leader.

Mrs. Albert Keller Is Class Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, May 16 — Martha Cosby class members of the First United Presbyterian church were hospitably entertained for the May meeting last evening at the home of Mrs. Albert Keller, of East Line avenue.

Twenty-five members and three guests, Mrs. Scott Scheidemantle, Mrs. Clark and Miss Bixler, attended. Mrs. Dorothy Williams was received as a new member.

Miss Janice stroup led the devotions and during the meeting it was decided to give a sum of money to the scout drive, now in progress.

Entertaining games and contests followed with the prizes going to Mrs. Edward Butler, Mrs. Chester Dicks and Miss Grace Harbison. Miss Zoe and Miss Janice Stroup were associate hostesses and aided Mrs. Keller in serving seasonable refreshments.

Wednesday, June 19, marks the date of the next meeting.

Polyanna Club Has Many Guests

ELLWOOD CITY, May 16.—For their May meeting, members of the Polyanna club were delightfully entertained on Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Myrtle Moon, of Hazel avenue.

Special guests were Mrs. O. E. Stopp, of Butler, Mrs. Howard Cooper, of Greenville, Mrs. W. J. Teevans, of Ambridge; Mrs. C. A. Watterson, Jr., Mrs. Walter Moon, Mrs. Harold McKim, and Mrs. A. C. Watterson of this city.

Diverting entertainment was directed by Mrs. John Stroehecker and Mrs. Margaret West with the prizes being claimed by Mrs. Charles Cunningham and Mrs. Walter Moon.

The hostess was aided in serving a nicely appointed lunch by Mrs. Walter Moon and Mrs. Watterson.

For the next meeting on Wednesday, June 19, a picnic was planned.

PIANO PUPILS TO PRESENT RECITAL

ELLWOOD CITY, May 16.—On Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the First U. P. church, the piano students of Miss Irene Rotnour will give a recital with the following pupils to take part:

Misses Mary Alice McCowin, Marian Brodbeck, Peggy Baird, Janet Patterson, Peggy Edwards, Elodia Barberio, Katherine Paul, Alice Wilson, Katherine Segedi, Luella Twentier, Martha Perazzoni, Roberta Maxwell, Janice Wilson, Audrey Young, Lillian Schenker, Nellie Klindienst.

Donald Dukelow, Melvin Rowlands, Neil Porter, Dwight Patton, Bruce Patton, Bobby and Donald Moon and Bill Zara. They will be aided by John Austin Holland of Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Ella Hennon Pleasing Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, May 16—Mrs. Ella Hennon, of the Ellwood-New Castle road, was a charming hostess to members of the Gold Star Mothers Auxiliary for the May meeting on Wednesday afternoon.

Fifteen members and two local guests, Mrs. John Wilson and Mrs. Jack Prosser, participated. The afternoon was passed in a social manner with the hostess serving a most delicious luncheon.

In June, the group will have a picnic with the arrangements to be decided.

Rev. C. J. Burton To Mark Anniversaries

ELLWOOD CITY, May 16.—On next Sunday, Trinity Sunday, Rev. Charles J. Burton, pastor of St. Luke's Episcopal church, Ewing Park, will celebrate the 17th anniversary of being made a deacon by the Rt. Rev. David L. Ferris, D. D., which took place in St. Paul's Cathedral, Buffalo, N. Y., on Trinity Sunday 1923; and the 16th anniversary of his advancement to the priesthood by the Rt Rev. Charles H Brent, D. D., in Trinity church, Buffalo, N. Y., on Trinity Sunday, 1924.

Rev. Burton assumed charge of the Lawrence County Episcopal Missions, consisting of St. Andrew's church, New Castle, and St. Luke's church, Ellwood City, on January 1, 1939. The service at St. Luke's church on next Sunday will be morning prayer and ante communion at 11:15 a. m.

William McCloskey Is Taken By Death

ELLWOOD CITY, May 16—Death today claimed one of Ellwood City's prominent residents, William J. McCloskey, aged 75 years, of 306 Pershing street, Ewing Park, who died this morning at 7 o'clock, following an illness of a few day's duration.

Mr. McCloskey was the husband of the late Anna Jane McCloskey, who preceded him in death in 1935.

The following children survive: Elizabeth, Irene, Myrtle, Anna, and Howard, all at home; Mrs. Harry J. Hull, of Grand Rapids, Michigan; Thomas and Clarence McCloskey, both of Ellwood City; and John J. McCloskey, of Chillicothe, Ohio.

Mr. McCloskey also leaves five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be announced later.

MRS. FRED HALL IS CLUB HOSTESS

ELLWOOD CITY, May 16.—On Wednesday evening, members of the M. L. club were graciously received at the home of Mrs. Fred Hall in Ewing Park.

Several hours were devoted to playing bridge with the lovely prizes going to Mrs. George Wilson and Mrs. Coulter Hulett and the travel prize to Mrs. Wayne Baird. Mrs. Harold Garwig was given a guest favor.

Mrs. Earl McCandless aided in serving a dainty lunch after which members departed to meet again on Wednesday, May 29, with Mrs. Frank Richards of Hazel avenue.

V. F. W. Auxiliary Party Successful

ELLWOOD CITY, May 16. — A very successful sample social and card party was held last evening by members of the V. F. W. Auxiliary at their hall, in Fourth street, with more than 150 members and guests in attendance.

Awards went to Mrs. Lillian Shingleton, Mrs. Marion Conway; Nick Bauer, Paul Chapla, for bridge; Mrs. William Biddle, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Rhodes and T. V. Barnes, for 500; and Mrs. Clarence Johnston and Mrs. Gertrude Reno, for bingo. Door prizes were awarded to Mrs. Bushyeager, Mrs. Esther Newton, Mrs George Young, Mrs. Frank Peffer, Mrs. Joseph Kearney, Mrs. Clarence Johnston and Mrs. William Bonzo.

Mrs. Victor Koach was in general charge of arrangements and much of the credit for the successful affair is due her. Refreshments were served as the concluding feature.

A brief meeting of the Junior Auxiliary preceded the party with membership pins being distributed. It was planned to have a social hour following the next meeting on Wednesday, June 12.

Marie Wollman Chosen For Camp

ELLWOOD CITY, May 16.—Miss Marie Wollman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Wollman, of Pershing street, Ewing Park, has been highly honored by being selected as a citizen of the first Keystone Girls camp to be held at Gettysburg from June 22 to July 2.

The camp is a new institution of the American Legion Auxiliary and only 100 girls from the 500 units of the state could be chosen to attend the first year. Miss Wollman has been an outstanding leader in the local Junior Auxiliary.

Slippery Rock Couple To Have Golden Wedding

ELLWOOD CITY, May 16—On Tuesday, May 21, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Smith of Slippery Rock, Route 1, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary.

They were married on May 21, 1890 and have spent their entire life in this community. The bride of fifty years was Miss Etta McConnell.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith are the parents of seven children, Mrs. Harry Boots, of Pleasant Hill, Mrs. Chas. Gibson, of Prospect; Mrs. George Morgan of Grove City, Mrs. Floyd McDeavitt, of Slippery Rock, John Smith of Portersville; Elton Smith, of Slippery Rock and Paul Smith of New Galilee. They have nineteen grand children and four great-grandchildren.

Their many friends and neighbors are invited to attend an "open-house" celebration on Tuesday during the afternoon and evening with a picnic dinner being planned for 6 o'clock.

WEDNESDAY CLUB AT ELLPORT HOME

ELLWOOD CITY, May 16—At the home of Mrs. Andrew Miller, of Ellport, members of the Wednesday club assembled for the May meeting.

Five hundred occupied the hours in a pleasant manner with the attractive top honors going to Mrs. Lewis Lucas and Mrs. Stephen Mondell. Mrs. Miller was assisted by her sister, Mrs. John Bakty in serving a dainty lunch.

Wednesday, June 19, marks the date of the next meeting at the home of Mrs. Rudy Lucas, of Ellport.

HARDLY KNOW I HAVE A BACK SINCE "VENDOL" EASED MISERY

Pennsylvania citizen says he was seldom without dull, aching pains, could hardly stoop over. Feels grand now.

MR. ELLIOT A. WEAVER

Mr. Elliot A. Weaver, well known resident of Truemans, Penna., says, "Vendol gave such complete, easy, natural bowel action that my constipation was relieved and it made my kidneys act more freely, so now all those aching pains across my back and down through my limbs have been relieved and I really forget my back till I hardly know I have one. Used to be that I could barely stoop over because I felt so stiff and full of pains, but no more of that now. This relief Vendol gave is truly amazing and I'm feeling so much better since taking it that I want to recommend it to everyone who suffers like I used to."

Vendol is made of extracts of 12 Natural Herbal plants with mild Alkalines added. It acts as a diuretic to the kidneys and is a wonderful laxative giving relief from many troubles due to constipation. It is like taking several different medicines all wrapped up into one. Give it a chance to help you, too.

Vendol is sold by most all leading druggists, and is especially recommended here by Eckerd's of New Castle, 118 E. Washington Street.

Many Charges Are Made By W.P.A. Probe Committee

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 16—Charges against the work projects administration, ranging from alleged waste and payroll padding to harboring of communists, were contained in a 94-page report made public Wednesday afternoon by the House WPA investigating committee.

The report, the bulk of which brought categorical denials from relief officials, led the senior committee investigator, Thomas C. Elder, to declare that "the WPA is the rottenest organization with which I have ever come in contact."

Exhaustive Document

The exhaustive document, prepared by committee counsel J. O'Connor Roberts, is the result of a year's investigation of relief in 12 states and the District of Columbia.

Citing a long list of specific instances on projects throughout the nation, the report emphasized the following allegations of irregularities:

Relief workers were compelled to do political work for officials: in many projects private property, sometimes owned by WPA officials, was improved at public expense; payrolls were padded; excessive supplies of materials were purchased at uneconomical prices; projects were authorized when the local sponsor could not meet his share of the cost; and many wasteful projects were undertaken.

Communist Training

The WPA writers project in Los Angeles was described as "a training school for communists" and the New York Home Relief, WPA, art, writers and music projects were charged with being "honeycombed with communism."

Highlights of some specific charges in the report were:

WPA spent $500,000 constructing a race track which was leased to Crooner Bing Crosby's Del Mar (Calif.) Turf Club. Col. F. C. Harrington, WPA commissioner, who contended the report was not based on sufficient evidence and that investigators were "expressing opinions" admitted that "we took a ride on the Del Mar project."

Huge Travel Expense

Deputy WPA commissioner Howard O. Hunter spent $17,000 in travelling expenses in five years and assertedly attended major football games at government expenses.

John K. Jennings, Indiana administrator, twice attended the Kentucky Derby, and once a world series baseball game, at federal expense.

A Miami, Fla., WPA worker died leaving $47,000 and no steps were taken to secure restitution.

The WPA spent $1,000,000 investgating itself and did nothing about conditions.

The Washington office is "badly overstuffed."

The New York purchasing office overpaid $65,000 for dynamite, and overpaid $22,000 for a tugboat for the north beach airport project.

Two truck loads of documents were transported at WPA expense to the Vassar College experimental theatre "with which Mrs. Hallie Flanagan (former WPA theatre project director) is connected."

The WPA in Louisiana built homes for Mrs. Huey Long and former Gov. Leche.

Commendation For Troop K

Captain George F. Mitchell of Cavalry Troop K, has received a communication from Colonel B. C. Jones, chief of staff of the 22nd Cavalry Division, in which he stated he spent a delightful day in this city, May 9, the date of the dedicatory services of the Cunningham Armory, near Cascade Park. He said he had never attended a military ceremony of this nature which was better planned and executed, nor had he seen an armory establishment in better condition than Captain Mitchell's was on Thursday.

He also wrote that Captain Mitchell, his lieutenants, and all the men of Troop K, deserved the highest commendation.

Colonel Jones was a former commander of the 103rd Cavalry Regiment, of which Troop K is a unit.

The colonel was promoted to be chief of staff of the 22nd Division, in February of this year.

A nominating committee was chosen as chairman as follows: 9A, Fern Riley; 9B Nellie Welsh; 8A, Betty Finnigan; 8B Arleen Conway; 7A Sally Hamilton: 7B Barbara Harcar.

Fern Riley and Lois Hogue opened the amateur program, which followed with a song and Arleen Conway presented a Mother's Day poem. Other features of the program were a spoon dance, Vivien Emiley song, Betty Hogue, accompanied by her sister; poem, Luella Rowe; dance, Nellie Welsh: song, Marjorie Rapson; poem, Beverly Fox; song, Dorothy Scarwich; skating dance, Jean Montanary.

On Thursday, there will be a public affair committee meeting for those interested in public affairs.

PUBLIC AFFAIRS COMMITTEE

Public Affairs Committee of the Y. W. C. A. will meet Thursday evening at 7:30 for their final meeting of the season.

Miss Dorothy Donahey will report on "It's fun to Be Fooled—But," a business girls' study of propaganda, and Miss Wanda Hanna will review "Public Affairs, Size 16" on the social problems which high school girls have to face.

Letters from our Congressman in response to letters from the committee against anti-alien legislation and the anti-lynching bill will be discussed. The meeting will close with a talk by Mrs. A. B. Fankhauser on the Christian foundation for the public affairs program of the Y. W. C. A. which has grown out of the needs of its numbers.

Miss Alice Sterling is chairman and there will be representatives from all adult clubs at the "Y" as well as from the membership.

JUNIOR BUSINESS GIRLS

Members of the Junior Business Girls will be guests of the Square Circle Thursday evening, at the Y. W. C. A. At this time the popular book, "Rebecca," by Daphne Du-Maurier will be reviewed.

JOINT MEETING

Members of the True Blue Circle and Industrial club met in the "Y" Tuesday evening for a panel discussion on "The Ideal Husband and the Ideal Wife," with Ida Kurdupski and Anne Dutko serving as chairmen of the two sides.

Points decided were that the ideal wife should be a good manager in the home, dress to her means, be impartial in family affections, be large in thought, word and deed, and trust and have faith in her husband; that the ideal husband should be a good provider, be a gentleman, trust and have faith in his wife, have freedom to go out with gentlemen friends, be a handy man around the home and be temperate in drinking and smoking.

Next week the clubs will attend the annual meeting of the Y. W. C. A.

ITALIAN MOTHERS CLUB

A theatre party will be held by members of the Italian Mothers club Thursday evening. Mrs. Philomena DeFelice, Mrs. Josephine Copple and Mrs. Lucy Gizzi will be hostesses later in the evening.

Ann Giancola Will Graduate

Local Girl To Graduate As Deaconess From National Training School May 21

ANN GIANCOLA

Miss Ann Giancola, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Augustine Giancola, of 106 East Phillips street, will graduate as deaconess from the Kansas City National Training school, Kansas City, Mo., on Tuesday, May 21.

Four years ago, following her graduation from the local high school in the January class of 1936, Miss Giancola entered the training school, where she majored in music and religious education. Her minor subjects were religion, dramatics and Bible.

During her four years of study, she was assigned to different churches in Rosedale, Kan., and Kansas City, Mo., where she was music director in one of the large churches. She also served in the capacity as counselor to the young people.

For the past four years, during her summer vacation, the young deaconess has taught the vacation Bible school at the Wesley Methodist church of this city, of which she is a member.

On May 23, Miss Giancola will return to her home on Phillips street, for her summer vacation. Her duties as a deaconess will be resumed sometime in July, when she will leave for Providence, R. I., to serve as a parish deaconess in the Italian Broadway Methodist church, and where she will also do district work.

In her line of work, Miss Giancola is a capable member of the large body of Christian workers, under the Women Home Missionary society.

POPULATION DROPS

(International News Service)

SHANGHAI—The population of Shanghai has dropped by one million to below 4,000,000 in the past few months. The reason, according to a Chinese survey is the big exodus of Chinese of the poorer classes to Japanese-occupied areas. The high cost of living in the foreign areas here, plus the fact that the occupied areas are now comparatively peaceful and orderly are given as the main reasons for the exodus.

New Castle Rifle Club Place Second In National Shoot

The New Castle Rifle club received notice from the National Rifle association that they took second place in the National Gallery league tournament and also won the Pennsylvania State Gallery championship, the match shot recently at their range in the Cathedral building. This is quite an honor for a team as they competed against the best of the rifle clubs throughout the United States.

The four men who placed on the team are: Wilbur Thomas, Jesse Moore, George Finley and Clarence Johns, with a score of 1148.

National Shoot

Following are the winners of the National Gallery shootoff:

Rochester Rifle club, Rochester, N. Y., 1st place; score 1155.

New Castle Rifle club, New Castle, Pa., 2nd place; score 1148.

Whitefish Rifle club, Whitefish, Mont., 3rd place; score 1147.

Each of these clubs and team members will be awarded trophies and medals.

Following is a summary of contests entered into by the New Castle Rifle club this past season:

Ohio-Penn champions (four years straight); Interstate Rifle league champions; Pennsylvania Gallery league champions; 2nd place National Gallery championship tournament; 2nd place in Ohio-Penn Rifle league tournament; third place in Interstate Rifle league tournament; second place in two-man team at Ohio-Penn tournament.

This is a record to be proud of and few rifle clubs have taken part in so many contests in one season and emerge with such a fine record. It seems that the New Castle Rifle club is in the habit of winning championships.

Plan For Banquet

The New Castle Rifle club will celebrate their fine victories at their annual banquet to be held in June, the place and date to be announced later. Wilbur Thomas was one of the winners of the coveted gold average medals given by the Ohio-Penn league for an average of 190 or better in fifteen or more matches, his average being 191 for 27 matches, which is some shooting in any rifle club. Quite a lot of shooters strive for one of these medals but very few reach their goal as three and possibly four have been the most that have won one of these medals out of about two hundred shooters in the league.

The four men who competed in the National Gallery shootoff were: Wilbur Thomas, 291; Jesse Moore, 286; George Finley, 286; C. H. Johns, 285; score, 1148.

Newark Bears of the International league have sent Sig Gryska, shortstop, to the St. Louis Browns. In turn, he was optioned by the Browns to Hollywood of the Pacific coast loop...The Leavittsburg Fish and Game association will hold a coon chase at Woodman park, north of Warren, O., May 26....Joe Cronin plays shortstop for the Red Sox but apparently he is kept equally as busy as a traffic director between that position and the bullpen. He has cleverly handled a so-and-so pitching staff. Only five times has a starting Red Sox hurler finished. ...Original Racing Pigeon club of Youngstown recently staged a flight from Columbus. City League Is Ready To Open

All Contracts Must Be In Today, Will Start 1940 Season On Sunday Afternoon

With the biggest majority of the player contracts in the City Baseball league is anxiously awaiting an opening day of the 1940 season. There will be five games Sunday (weather permitting). They all will start at 3 o'clock.

The final meeting prior to the start of the season was held last night at St. Joseph's parish hall. A league official ball was adopted. Frank Coen, recently appointed to the board of commissioners, tendered his resignation and William "Bill" Semler, well known local sportsman, was appointed to fill the vacancy.

The deadline for filing of contracts was 3 o'clock this afternoon. No contracts will be accepted until the start of the second half.

West Pittsburg Vs Saints

The managers expressed confidence last night that this is going to be a big year for the City Baseball league. Every club in the circuit will be out to defeat the Slovak club, the 1939 champs.

The Slovaks will entertain the Elder A. C. team in the opening game at Clifton Flats field Sunday. The Moose and Croton are scheduled at the Cascade street field. The Red Sox and Ryantown will play at the Ryantown field. The West Side Tigers play host to the scrappy Lawrence Indies team. The West Pittsburg "Gas House Gang" will battle the St. Joseph team in the lid-lifter at West Pittsburg.

Sports World Ramblings

Thinclads flaunting the colors of George Washington and Ben Franklin junior high school went on a record-breaking spree at Taggart stadium the other day. All told, only one old record in the eight class 4 events managed to escape. The feat is sub-par in any cinder path league. Maybe the sight of Phil H. Bridenbaugh and Will Klee, the Red Hurricane gravel grinding bosses, inspired the athletes.

Jimmy Hurn, the Franklin firefly, busted the tape in 11 seconds in the 100-yard sprint. Paradise, George Washington greyhound, went wild in the 220-yard scamper and the half-mile jaunt. General Lee, George Washington streak of lightning (also a crack footballer) pegged the shot-put 50 feet 4½ inches. Genkinger, of the North Hill school grabbed the pole vault and leaped 8 feet 10 inches over the bar. Franklins relay team wasn't stalling in clipping the half-mile distance in 1 minute 43 and 3-10 seconds.

Within a few weeks Lawrence county's scholastic sports program closes another season. The class B schools end their term first, closely followed by New Catle high. Following another busy athletic season, coaches and athletes will welcome the rest. What do coaches do during the warm days? Most of them rest for a brief time and commence outlining the attack for next fall's football season, which isn't too far away when you come to think of it.

Diamond Stuff — There probably isn't a club in baseball which has pulled more "diamond boners" than the Cubs, the Phillies and Brownies included. Chicago has the knack of grabbing choice talent and then letting said valuable chattels loose. The Kirby Higbe nightmare probably tops 'em all. The 24-year-old twirler came up with the Cubs. Overnight, it seemed, he was wearing a Philadelphia Philly suit. Today Higbe is one, two, three with any caster in the loop.

With such a weak outfit as the Phils, Higbe has been a thorn in the path of all foes. His record, as of yesterday, was two triumphs and three losses. The three setbacks were by one run, 1-0 to the Giants and 3-2 to Cincinnati and the Bees Last year he started 28 games, winning 12 and losing 15. When you stop to think of the calibre of the 1939 Phils, it's easy to appreciate Higbe's value. Fellows like Dolph Camilli, Lonnie Frey, Curt Davis, Marty and Lon Warneke are ex-Cubs, only to mention a few starring on other clubs.

Now that the Yanks have hit a snag, there is considerable speculation in the diamond world. A year ago the champs were "in" months before the race had started. Today there are a few ifs and don'ts. Connie Mack, the Athletic boss, is sticking to his guns. He still says Cleveland and Boston will fight it out, with the Yanks finishing third. If we may be permitted to inject our opinion, the Yanks will come rolling along by August. There's too much class on hand.

Diamond Odds and Ends—The Yanks were so bad at the start of the season that they dropped 13 out of 19 games. The slump also caused McCarthy to bench Frank Crosetti for the first time in years, due to the miserable showing of his club. Charlie Keller, who is noted as a poor marksman against southpaw chucking, was also relegated to the dugout . . . Doc Protho, of the Phillies, quizzed about the role pitching plays in baseball, replied that twirling is not 60% of the strength of a club, but 75%, and maybe more.

Meadville High Tops New Castle

New Castle Gets But One First Place In Dual Track Meet Here Wednesday

NEXT MEET AT SHARON MAY 21

Despite the rain, Meadville High yesterday afternoon sent a mighty well balanced track team to Taggart Stadium and defeated the New Castle High track team 85½ to 36½. Owing to the wet turf and track not very fast time was made in the track events.

New Castle was able to place first in just one event, the javelin throw with Al Bucci tossing the wand 148 feet, three inches to top his teammate, Timmy Temenski.

Klinginsmith, of the Meadville team, with two firsts in the hurdle events and Morrow with two firsts in the dashes 100 and 220 were the outstanding stars of the meet.

New Castle will end the regular track season on May 21 by meeting Sharon High at Sharon. New Castle will have a team in the annual W. P. I. A. L. at Pittsburgh later this month.

The results yesterday.

Track Events

100-Yard Dash—Morrow, Meadville, first; Mears, Meadville, second; Hammond, New Castle, third. Time: 10.4 seconds.

220-Yard Dash — Morrow, Meadville, first; Young, New Castle, second; Mears, Meadville, third. Time: 24 seconds.

440-Yard Dash — Jackson, Meadville, first; Young, New Castle, second; Morgan, New Castle and Penman, Meadville, tied for third. Time: 52.6 seconds.

880-Yard Run—Wright, Meadville, first; Tomalello, New Castle, second; Gilboy, New Castle, third. Time: 2.07.7 seconds.

Mile Run — Palmero, Meadville, first; Jerry, New Castle, second; Smith, Meadville, third. Time: 4.53 minutes.

120-Low Hurdles — Klinginsmith, Meadville, first; Hammond, New Castle, second; Swaney, Meadville, third. Time: 12.8 seconds.

120-High Hurdles — Klinginsmith, Meadville, first; Cooper, New Castle, second; Swaney, Meadville, third. Time: 15.4 seconds.

Mile Relay — Meadville, first (Crane, Palmero, Jackson, Wright) New Castle, second, (Morgan, Temenski, Gilboy, Young). Time, 3.39 minutes.

Field Events

Pole Vault — Hollern, Meadville, first; Gennock, New Castle, Mastropietro, New Castle, and Helwig, Meadville, all tied for second place.

Shot Put—Cullen, Meadville, first; Brewton, Meadville, second, Baciach, Meadville, third. Distance: 46 feet, 8½ inches.

Discus Throw—Cullen, Meadville, first; Baciach, Meadville, second; Temenski, New Castle, third. Distance: 137 feet, 9 inches.

High Jump — Crispen, Meadville, first; Cullen, Meadville, second; Krepps, New Castle, Johnston, Meadville and Swaney Meadville all tied for third. Heighth: 4 feet, 10 inches.

Broad Jump—Morrow, Meadville, first; Alexander, New Castle, second; Bexhtol, New Castle, third. Distance: 19 feet, 5½ inches.

Javelin Throw—Bucci, New Castle, first; Temenski, New Castle, second; Mears, Meadville, third. Distance: 148 feet, 3 inches.

Total Points — Meadville, 85½; New Castle, 36½.

Basketball Rules For 1941 Changed

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 16—A three-minute overtime period will be played at high school games ending in a tie according to an official interpretation of 1940-1941 basketball rules today by the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association.

In event of no score, the "sudden death" method of breaking a tie will be used, under the change in rules.

Smaller Backboard

Although no change will be made in the diagram of the court, the smaller streamlined backboard tried experimentally last year will be made legal next season at the option of the home team. Major rule changes include:

1. A substitution will be permitted any time the watch is not running except during the interval between the time the ball is placed at the disposal of a free thrower and the time the throw is completed, it will also be permitted any time the ball is dead with the watch running except after a field goal.

2. Players will be numbered consecutively beginning with number 3, with ranking players wearing low numbers.

3. In high school games the automatic timeout is to be declared in the middle of the second and fourth quarter provided that neither team has taken a charged timeout during the first four minutes of these quarters. Timeout is to be two minutes.

4. When a game is forfeited, the score at time of forfeiture will be considered the official score in cases where it would be to the disadvantage to the offended team to have the score declared 2-0.

5. If a free thrower who is attempting to throw for a technical foul steps over the line too soon, the point shall not be counted and whether or not the throw succeeds, the ball will be awarded to the free thrower's team out of bounds at midcourt.

6. When the ball is awarded to the A team out of bounds from its front court, the official must have actual possession of the ball and then hand it to the proper player.

7. The rule relative to who shall make the free throw will be made consistent in cases where an injured player is to leave the game, or a player is illegally in the game, or disqualified on the play. In such cases, the substitute will attempt the free throw.

8. In penalty, the provision for the extra free throw for a deliberate foul will be further emphasized. The right to waive a free throw will exist only until the ball has been placed at the disposal of the free thrower.

Slight changes have been made in rules dealing with timing and scoring in an attempt to eliminate irregularities.

Reds Back In League Lead

Defeat Dodgers Wednesday 5 To 2, Giants Defeat Pirates 5 to 2

LARRY FRENCH HURLS TWO-HITTER

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 16.—This young baseball season already has produced more than its share of surprises in the standings of the clubs with the world champion Yankees in the cellar and the highly-touted Cardinals not far away from the basement.

The season also has been productive of some amazingly fine pitching and some that was amazing only for it ineptitude. We also have seen some great home run hitting and some of the sloppiest fielding noted in several years.

We already have had two no-hit performances and any number of games in which a pitcher gave no more than one, two or three hits.

Cubs Trip Bees

At the same time we have seen Johnny Mize hit nine homers which puts him ahead of Babe Ruth's pace in his record year and two others, Jimmy Foxx and Hal Trosky, only a step away with eight.

Larry French, the Cubs' veteran lefthander, who seems to have found a private fountain of youth, held the Bees to two hits yesterday for a 2-0 shutout. That was Larry's fifth victory.

There were seven errors in that game and a total of 16 boots in the four National league games. In fact, the Giants were the only ones to turn in an errorless performance, while four Pirate miscues helped old Carl Hubbell down the Bucs, 5 to 2.

Reds Take First Place

The Reds moved back into first place in their see-saw battle with the Dodgers by piling into Whitlow Wyatt for all their runs in the first inning while young Gene Thompson spraed five hits for a 5-2 decision.

Wyatt was routed before he could retire a single hitter and this, coming on top of previous poor showings, leads one to suspect that the Dodger ace's knee, operated on last winter, is far from right. If Wyatt isn't able to turn in his share of victories, the Dodgers will have to find another starter somewhere or abandon their pennant hopes for this year.

The Cardinals trotted out five more pitchers, which is about their average per game, but Higbe outpitched all of them as the Phillies hung up another, 6 to 3.

All games in the American league were rained or frozen out.

Rads-Bronze To Battle Sunday In Opening Tilt

Ceremonies Planned For Radiator Field As 1940 Softball Season Starts

Sunday afternoon May 19, will see the official softball opening in New Castle when the National Radiators, the 1939 champions, meet the Johnson Bronze at the Rad's field, starting promptly at 2:00 o'clock.

The game that will be played on Sunday will take the place of one scheduled for later in the season between the same two teams. All other teams in the Class A division of the City Softball Association will start their regular season Monday evening, May 20.

The game will be preceeded by appropriate ceremonies which will include a short talk by two or three public officials and the raising of the American flag over the field. Both the National Radiator and Johnson Bronze teams are recognized as fast and hard playing and both have many of last years members on their rosters.

The Association is making arrangements to have umpires of the Lawrence County Umpires Association handle the game.

AROUND CITY HALL

When council met in city hall today Miller, Pyle & Street and the Universal Printing company presented bids for the city's 1940-41 printing. The bids after being opened were sent to committee for checking. In connection with the bids, Norman Freeborne, president of the Trades & Labor assembly, and men with him, in behalf of the local Typographical union, urged that the contract be led to a union concern. City Clerk C. Ed Brown told Freeborne and councilmen that an ordinance adopted years ago provided for this.

When council met several days ago it was reported that council would recommend to the park commission that a parking fee be imposed at Cascade park. It now develops that Councilman Joseph D. Alexander following a discussion by council which showed they favored such a fee, introduced a motion to that effect, which passed. This means that autoists must pay a 10-cent parking fee at Cascade park this summer.

There are all sorts of thieves. Some steal safes, other swipe pocketbooks and others steal jewelry. However, today police received a report from Tony Bongivenzo, 304 Glass street, that his flat-bottom boat, which was in his yard, was stolen Sunday.

Simon Lasky, who has operated here as a street oiler for several years, today presented a bond to city council to guarantee the work he may do here this summer. According to councilmen recently the city will not oil any streets, excepting lanes leading to cemeteries.

Council today referred to committee petitions calling for the paving of Florence avenue, Wolf and Wall streets. Wolf street must be ordained before the work starts.

City Engineer Glenn R. Throop today stated that he has no idea when the state highway department will repair East Washington street which according to reports is in poor condition.

City mechanics went to Pittsburgh district yesterday to scan a steam shovel which the city has advertised for for the contemplated dredging of the Big Run.

South Side Board Of Trade Auxiliary Makes Request Of School Board

Appearing before the New Castle School Board Wednesday night a committee of the South Side Board of Trade Auxiliary asked that the playgrounds of the Lincoln-Garfield School be used this summer for South Side boys and girls and that access be given to the toilet rooms and one room for handicraft work.

Attorney Joseph Leta, Jr., spoke for the group and explained that playground facilities in the South Side were limited to a spot on Moravia street. He stated that the committee expected to appear before the Recreation Board and asked for a supervisor to be assigned to the grounds if they are used.

The board turned the matter over to the two members who are also members of the Recreation Board, A. C. Hyde and C. L. Shira, with authority to act.

Two bids for black top for a playground back of the senior high school were opened but the bids were laid on the table until the board investigates the possibility of other materials. The two bids opened were for amesite, one from the Inter-State Amesite Company at Hillsville and one from the Cambria Slag Company.

75 KINDS OF FLEAS

(International News Service)

SHANGHAI — China—always a country of large numbers—has 75 distinct species of fleas. So a learned gathering here of members of the Royal Asiastic Society and the International Institute of China was solemnly assured. And, the lecturer added, there are probably a great many more species awaiting discovery.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

Some folks gave words yesterday morning that a little rain would help things along . . . well they must be living right because we sure did have a nice little rain. Things will really grow now if the sun comes out . . . let's all keep living right and then maybe we will not suffer from lack of rain this summer . . . what say you.

Bicycle problems are becoming more and more serious as the warm days grow longer. Parents why not have a little round table at your house once a week and talk about the proper way to operate a bicycle . . . tell your offsprings the laws of the motorists and ask them if they have any suggestions that would help the bicycle rider. Let them take an active part in the discussion and we feel sure that if they have a clear understanding with you and the laws, they will govern themselves better.

Don't forget you folks between the ages of 18 and 25 and interested in music . . . report to the W. N. Aiken school building Friday between 2 and 9 p. m. It maybe will give you some important light on your future.

* * *

How are you coming along with your garden . . . be it flower or vegetable . . . it's a very interesting pastime. And if you play your cards right men, you might be able to talk the little woman into doing a little work in the garden . . . she no doubt will be anxious to work with the flowers but the onions and the carrots might not be her line . . . but with the proper talk maybe you might interest her. We hope this doesn't cause you any trouble . . . often times we mention little things that you men might do around the house and we hear this answer "You haven't been married long enough to know better" . . . maybe so, but if you can't get along with the woman and children in your home, who in the ---- can you get along with?

The new Penn Power building will surely be a dandy . . . from the looks of things now it will be streamlined . . . the corners will be rounded and the whole building will be an asset to the community.

* * *

It won't be long until a large group of boys and girls will walk across the stage at the Cathedral and their public school life will be over . . . good luck to them all.

STOCKS

Stock Market Is Irregular

General Trend Of Market Is Lower Today, Orderly Dealings Are Recorded

By LESLIE GOULD
(International News Service Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, May 16.—The stock market quieted down today, with the general trend lower after an irregular rise at the opening. Orderly dealings were in marked contrast to the boiling markets on the collapse through the first three days of the week.

The ticker ran late for a short time in initial transactions, but caught up almost immediately. Turnover in the first hour totaled 570,000 shares vs. 1,540,000 shares for the same period Wednesday.

Featuring forenoon dealings was a collapse in American Air Lines, which broke 7 points before meeting support. This helped to unsettle the general market after the firm opening.

Loft was a selling target late in the forenoon, tumbling more than 3 points to break below 20. U. S. Gypsum lost as much, while Westinghouse Electric dropped more than 2. Declines elsewhere were limited to from fractions to a point.

Bethlehem and U. S. Steel, early strong spots, gave up their gains for fractional losses. Motors were under moderate pressure, General Motors and Chrysler each slipping about a point. Douglas and United Aircraft dropped a point in a mixed plane manufacturing group.

Several stocks bucked the downtrend for substantial gains.

Dow Chemical jumped 4 points at one time, Case and Howe Sound more than 2, and Johns-Manville 4 at its high. Eastman Kodak, Western Union and Allied Chemical were up better than a point.

Safe Driving Course Starts Here Tuesday

Twenty More Safe Driving Students Can Be Accepted

A special course in safe driver training is expected to start Tuesday, May 21, 1940, at 7 p. m. in the Aiken school building, 226 Pearson street, according to Wm. H. Haley of the Lawrence county division of the Pennsylvania Schools for Highway Safety conducted by the Works Projects Administration in cooperation with the Pennsylvania Motor Police and sponsored by the Morgan-Burrows Motor company and the New Castle Junior Chamber of Commerce.

In addition to those already registered Mr. Haley states he will accept 20 more safe driving students. The course will consist of 10 lessons of two hours duration on safe driving theory, society's responsibilities, man and the motor car, highway courtesy, automobile mechanics, the operation of the motor, and the motorist as a first aider.

The students upon completion of the above mentioned training may then continue their driving instruction in actual driving in dual controlled automobiles under trained driving instructors.

This training is open to any one past 16 years of age and may be either a learner or licensed operator.

The class room training is free to the public, however, a small fee to cover the cost of operation of the car is charged for the actual safe driving instruction.

For the duration of the summer upon completion of one class, another will start.

To register for this course call in person or phone Morgan-Burrows Motor Co., 25 North Jefferson street, New Castle, Pa.

Grove City Plans For May Pageant

Colorful Event Is Scheduled For Saturday At Grove City College

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, May 16—The most colorful event of the year at Grove City College is the May Pageant. At this time the outstanding Senior girl, surrounded by three hundred fifty co-eds, is crowned Queen of the May. The Pageant will be presented on Saturday, May 18, on the athletic field.

The queen's court is composed of the following girls: Helen Heckathorne, may queen; Jean Lord, junior queen; Betty Perrine, June Riegel, Louise Parker, and Jane Allen, ladies in waiting: Dorothy Bidaman, marshal of the day; Janet Hartland, coronation officer; Florence Borland, bearer of the crown; Stacia Seiple, bearer of the sceptre; and Ruth May, Virginia Briggs, Sally Pack, Betty Clark and Miriam Boucher, heralds.

"The Queen of Hearts' Croquet Party" is the title of an interlude of pantomime and dancing taken from the book "Alice in Wonderland."

Several girls will present solo dances. Among these are Betty Camera, "The Ribbon Solo" a Hungarian gypsy dance, and Emmy Salmi will present a "National Hungarian Dance" arranged to the music of Brahm's Fifth Hungarian Dance.

The program of dances includes "Dutch Dance," "Barn Dance," "Waltz" "Lobster Quadrille," "Sorrentina," "Roselle," London Dance," "Irish Lilt," "Rustic Waltz," "Highland Fling,' and "The Executioner's Drill."

The Pageant is under the direction of Miss Esther Post, assisted by Miss Barbara Snow. Miss Esther Reynolds will direct the college orchestra which will furnish the music for the dancers.

GREAT NEWS!

KRUSCHEN—NOW COMES IN NEW PLEASANT TASTING DELICIOUS "BUBBLING" FORM

Constipation Sufferers Overjoyed!

Since recent scientific tests were made public, Kruschen is winning new friends everywhere. And just listen to this—Kruschen now comes in a NEW effervescent form—sparkling—"bubbling"—pleasant tasting—and offers an IDEAL "daily" treatment for constipation.

Tests at a World-Famous Hospital proved that a "little daily dose" of Kruschen actually helps nature to produce her own gentle, pleasant "daily" bowel movements by keeping the waste matter in the colon soft, moist and easy to expel. Also a mild antacid and kidney stimulant.

Kruschen gives you MORE for your money, too! A jar costs only a trifle and lasts for WEEKS! And now that it comes in such delightfully pleasant form—why don't YOU get onto the "little daily dose." (Kruschen is also obtainable in the original "still" form.) Made in U. S. A.
